Why Treasurer Burke Went Back to London.

He Says the Charges Against Him Are His Enemies' Work.

Boulanger Seeks an Asylum on the Isle of Jersey.

Ex-Queen Natalie Battling for Her Rights in the Servian Capital—Two Distinguished Frenchmen Dead, Etc.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] E. A. Burke, ex-Treasurer of Louisiana, who sailed from Liverpool for New York on the steamer Teutonic, but disembarked on the arrival of the steamer at Queenstown, and returned to London, says that when he arrived at Queenstown he found awaiting him a number of telegrams from his London agent insisting upon his return to attend to negotiations relating to his Central American and other properties. Burke sent his family on the Teutonic, and says he will probably sail for New York within a week.

Burke says he has not had a single communication from the State officials of Louisiana. He declares that the Attorney-General of Louisiana and others directing the inquiry into the bond swindle are animated by political animosity, and he eagerly awaits the moment when he will confront them in New Orleans.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The New French Chamber Overwhelmingly Republican.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] It is officially announced that the new Chamber of Deputies will be composed of 362 Republicans and 295 members of the Opposition. The Republicans comprise 236 Moderates and 126 Radicals; the Opposition, 100 Royalists, 58 Bonapartists, 45 Boulangists.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—According to latest estimates, the new Chamber of Deputies will have 365 Republicans and 211 opposing members. This estimate includes colonial members.

GREAT STORM IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A terrific gale prevails throughout Great Britain and Ireland. It is particularly severe along the River Mersey. Much damage has been done at Blackpool, and in Lancashire and Ireland. The gale is blowing with tremendous force in the Irish Channel. A large number of shipwrecks are reported. Telegraph wires are down in many places.

The storm has destroyed 100 yards of the Holyhead breakwater and isolated the lighthouse. The coast is strewn with wreckage.

EX-QUEEN NATALIE DEFIANT.

BELGRADE, Oct. 7.—Ex-Queen Natalie has refused to face many consequences of the decision of the Government, and will decline to accept any decision of the Skuptchina restricting her stay in Servia.

The Greek Metropolitan Miodael declines to interfere in the divorce of ex-King Milan and ex-Queen Natalie. The ex-Queen therefore petitions Parliament for an annulment of the decree.

A GLADSTONIAN SUCCESS.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—An election was held at Peterboro today to fill a Parliamentary seat made vacant by death. The Liberal Unionist (Gladstone) polled 1893 votes, against 1642 cast for Burns, the Unionist nominee.

THE O'DONOGHUE DEAD.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—O'Donoghue, of the Glens, commonly called "The O'Donoghue," is dead. He represented Tipperary in Parliament from 1857 to 1865, and sat for Tralee from 1865 to 1885.

MRS. BURNETT VERY ILL.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, the authoress, is seriously ill, suffering from the shock caused by the overturning of her cart while riding yesterday.

NOTED FRENCHMEN DEAD.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—Jules Dupré, French painter, is dead.

Lebrun is dead. He became famous during the Franco-Prussian war of 1870.

BOULANGER GOES TO JERSEY.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Boulanger, accompanied by his secretary and a female companion, started secretly tonight for the Isle of Jersey.

THE KING OF SIAM.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The King of Siam arrived here today.

THE CHURCHMEN.

Oregon Admitted as a Diocese—Other Proceedings.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] In the Episcopal convention this morning, Rev. Dr. Hanckel, chairman of the Committee on New Dioceses, presented a report on the memorial from the Missionary Diocese of Oregon asking that it be admitted as a diocese, and that Missionary Bishop Morris be made bishop. Dr. Goodwin objected that the election of Bishop Morris as bishop of the diocese was not in accordance with the constitution.

Rev. Dr. Hanckel replied that whether this was so or not, the main question was that the Diocese of Oregon should be admitted. After further discussion the question was divided. The simple proposition to admit Oregon as a diocese was unanimously carried, and consent was then unanimously given to the election of Bishop Morris.

Missionary Bishop Haddock of Washington told of the work done during the past three years, and of the needs of the diocese for financial assistance.

Rev. Robert Shaw Locke, who for the past 15 years has been a missionary in China, said the only hope of converting the Chinese, Japanese or natives of India was by having native missionaries.

Missionary Bishop Talbot of Wyoming and Idaho spoke of the work in his diocese and of its needs, both in money and men.

The Board of Missions then adjourned as a token of respect to the memory of Bishop Vail of Kansas, who died yesterday at Bryn Mawr, Pa., while on his way to the convention.

The English Grain Trade.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Mark Lane Express says: "English wheats have been a fraction firmer. Foreign wheats weaker. Large offerings of English wheat undersell the imported. Corn is declining; American January delivery was quoted at 19s. Today English wheat was 6d dearer. Foreign wheat were firmer. Corn was 1s cheaper for La Plata; flat corn is down 3d; round is firm. Malting barley advanced 6d; grinding has risen 3d."

A Veteran Becomes Insane.

PORTLAND (Or.), Oct. 7.—Capt. James Kennington, a retired army officer, who lately commanded Company B, Fourteenth Infantry, at Vancouver, was today sent to the insane asylum. The cause of his insanity was a wound in the head, received at the battle of Fredericksburg.

THE PAN-AMERICANS.

Another Day Among the Factories of New England.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] The delegates to the Pan-American Congress left here this morning for a visit to Lawrence and Lowell. At Lawrence the delegates inspected the Pacific cotton mills and the Russell paper mills. They evinced deep interest in their workings. The party started for Lowell at 1:30 p.m.

The party returned here in the early evening. They visited three concerns in Lowell and saw 8000 operators at work. The day has been the first one of the solid business lines upon and within which the International Congress is projected. The foreigners in several instances have placed themselves in closer relation with the manufacturing interests they have visited. They have carefully and shrewedly observed what they have visited. They have talked of prices, terms and business methods with the heads of the establishments visited. The Mexican delegate, for instance, indicated an interest in carpets, and the Costa Rica representative scrutinized prints with business purposes. The party dined aboard the train while returning to Boston from Lowell, and upon their arrival here were driven to a theater, where the evening was spent.

William E. Curtis, who, under the direction of the State Department, is in charge of the expedition and has received a great number of telegrams from cities which are importunate that the train and its occupants shall stop for inspection and entertainment. Curtis desires through the Associated Press dispatches to answer all these cities speedily, that the route has been carefully laid out and every moment of the time allotted is so utterly filled, that no possible deviation can be made from the already announced programme.

EARLY RAINS.

A GENERAL DOWNPOUR IN CALIFORNIA.

Little Damage So Far Reported Except in Some of the Raisin-growing Sections of the State.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] The first rain of the season began to fall here shortly after midnight and continued until about 11 o'clock this morning. The sky is still overcast, and there are indications of more rain.

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 7.—Rain commenced falling heavily here at 8 o'clock this morning. It rained in the mountains all night. If the storm is followed by clear weather soon, the damage in this county will be very light.

NEVADA, Oct. 7.—A violent rainstorm began this morning. Small streams are rising rapidly. The storm was hailed with satisfaction, as it will extinguish the fires which have been raging in wood lands.

GILROY, Oct. 7.—Heavy rain fell this morning, with considerable wind. Up to noon nearly a quarter of an inch had fallen.

PASO ROBLES, Oct. 7.—Thirty-three hundredths have fallen during the day.

ST. HELENA, Oct. 7.—The rain last night and today damaged grapes on vines considerably.

NEVADA, Oct. 7.—A heavy wind and rainstorm blew down a number of trees and prostrated telegraph wires.

TRUCKEE, Oct. 7.—Rain has fallen steadily all this afternoon, accompanied by heavy wind.

VENTURA, Oct. 7.—The barometer indicates fair weather, but it is cloudy.

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 7.—Rain commenced at 7:30 and continued until noon in heavy showers. It will do good.

MODESTO, Oct. 7.—Rain began to fall this morning. At 1 o'clock nine-hundredths of an inch had fallen.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Oct. 7.—The first rain of the season began at 5 o'clock this morning. There was a heavy shower. At 11 o'clock an eighth of an inch had fallen.

STOCKTON, Oct. 7.—Rain began falling this morning.

NAPA, Oct. 7.—A general rain throughout the county began this morning. Grapes are nearly all picked. Only slight damage will follow.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 7.—Rain began falling this afternoon, steadily increasing for about three hours. Then it ceased. The damage is very slight.

VISALIA, Oct. 7.—Seventy-hundredths of an inch of rain fell this afternoon. Indications are that rain will continue all night.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 7.—A gentle rain has been falling all the afternoon and still continues.

WOODLAND, Oct. 7.—Rain began falling at 8 this morning and continued for three hours. Some damage will result to the raisin interests, as much of the crop is still on trays.

COLUSA, Oct. 7.—One and a quarter inches of rain fell today.

SALINAS, Oct. 7.—About thirty-five hundredths of an inch of rain fell today.

RED BLUFF, Oct. 7.—The heaviest October rain known in many years began falling last night, preceded by high winds. About an inch and a quarter has already fallen and the prospects indicate more.

TULARE, Oct. 7.—It began raining this afternoon and still continues. No damage will result to raisins as the first crop is all in.

MARYSVILLE, Oct. 7.—The rainfall today measures .75.

HEALDSBURG, Oct. 7.—Rain commenced falling last night. An inch and a quarter had fallen at 6 o'clock and the indications are for more. Considerable damage to the grape crop is reported.

Nothing Left for the Creditors.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Three creditors today obtained attachments aggregating $12,000 against H. E. Vangelder & Son, dealers in diamonds, on the ground of fraudulent disposal of property. When the Sheriff made the levy nothing of value could be found. Emil Vangelder is manager of the business here. He has not been to the office since Friday. About a week ago Vangelder showed about $20,000 worth of diamonds to one of his creditors, and said that he had $40,000 worth of diamonds altogether. Henry E. Vangelder, his father, resides at Amsterdam, Holland, and is said to be worth $100,000. Young Vangelder's liabilities are placed at $30,000.

Highbinders Held.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Lee Wing, Lee Ging and Lee Hi, who robbed, bound and gagged Lee Hing, and who are said to be Chinese highbinders, were held for examination today. Their counsel said they were young men in comfortable circumstances. It is vaguely hinted that Lee Hing offered himself to be gagged in order to fasten the crime on the prisoners, as an effort to rid the Chinese quarter of highbinders. The better class of Chinamen scout the idea that the three merchants would do any such thing.

The St. Louis Mystery.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—Capt. Slattery is resting easier tonight. His friends advance the theory that he took a powder which a doctor had prescribed for insomnia and was partially overcome by it, and that while in this condition he started to see Secretary Harris of the Merchants' Elevator Company, and, making a mistake in his dazed condition, wandered into Koesterman's place.

Played with a Pistol.

PORTLAND (Or.), Oct. 7.—Two little sons of J. W. Shelton, living near Carlton, were playing with an old pistol today, which happened to be loaded. The weapon was discharged while in the hands of one of the boys, and the ball passed through his heart.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

The Commanderies Muster at Washington.

A Dubious Weather Outlook for Today's Parade.

Many Thousands Will Take Part in the Pageant.

California Knights Being Lionized—Their Headquarters Thronged With Distinguished Members of the Order.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] A brisk, chilly, northwest wind, which fluttered the flags and streamers decorating the buildings along the line of march which will be followed by the Knights Templar tomorrow, proved rather a cold welcome to the visiting commanderies when they arrived today. But the warm reception which they received from the crowds on the streets acted as an offset to the inclemency of the weather. The District Commanderies were busily engaged today in escorting arriving guests to their headquarters. Tonight trains are constantly arriving, bringing Knights and their friends. Everything is orderly and well arranged, and there is but little noise and confusion. Quarters have been engaged for 22,000 Knights, but 18,000 is probably a conservative estimate of the number to be present. It is expected that at least 15,000 persons will be in line tomorrow.

The Northwestern States have sent a fine representative body of men here. Dakota makes a good impression, with five commanderies, viz: Cyrene, of Sioux Falls; Fargo, No. 5; Grand Forks, No. 8; Jamestown, No. 12, and Damascus, of Aberdeen. Washington sends only 11 members of the Grand Commandery, the recent severe fires in the Territory compelling the Sir Knights to remain at home. Montana sends commanderies from Helena and Butte City. Damascus, of St. Paul, and Zion, of Minneapolis, are the representative Minnesota organizations. Wyoming has only one commandery, that Red Rice's.

328, 330, 332, 334 and 336 S. Spring.

RED RICE'S CLAIMS TO BE PROgressive. It is conceded by even its enemies that it gets there about every time. Our success has caused malice and envy on the part of some few secondhand dealers. Sorry, but can't help it. For, while Red Rice's is not a secondhand store, two-thirds of the goods being new, yet we do buy and sell more secondhand furniture than any six other houses in the city. Hence those briny tears and those vicious slurs that come to us. The wail goes up that Red Rice is paying too much for goods, or that he is cutting prices. Mea culpa! To those charges we must plead guilty. Fact is, we sell so much that we can afford to and do sell on a less margin of profit than any others. We strive to treat both buyer and seller squarely. We furthermore have not the gold coin to buy up a lot of goods and then stand around watching our neighbors do business. We must sell goods.

COUNCIL.

A NUMBER OF SCHOOL SITES FORMALLY ACCEPTED,

And the Rest to Be Advertised Again—Buildings to Be Erected on the Accepted Lots—The Leasing of a Reservoir Site Falls Through.

The City Council met in regular session yesterday morning, with President Frankenfield and Councilmen Shafer, Brown, Hamilton, Wirsching, Van Dusen, Summerland and McLain present.

The City Auditor reported the amounts on hand in the various funds for the past week.

The Chief of Police reported collections of $1122 on delinquent licenses for August.

The City Tax Collector reported 2192 licenses issued for September, amounting to $16,846.50. Referred to Finance Committee.

Police Judge Owens reported collections by him for September of $131, and of Police Judge Stanton of $742.90. Referred to the Finance Committee.

The Superintendent of Streets recommended the passage of a garbage ordinance, garbage to be collected once a week and to define what garbage means. On motion of Mr. Shafer, the matter was referred to the City Attorney with instructions to draft an ordinance.

The City Attorney reported that, in his opinion, the California Central Railroad Company is not liable for the construction of protective work for the approaches to the bridges across the river.

In the matter of the regrading of Temple street, the City Attorney asked for a week's further time, which was granted.

The City Attorney reported an ordinance amending the ordinance fixing the fire limits and regulating the erection of buildings therein, in accordance with the recommendations of the Fire Commissioners, made last week, which was read, and 50 copies were ordered printed.

President Frankenfield said there is one part of the ordinance which should be passed as soon as possible—that taking Fort street, between Fifth and Seventh streets, into the fire limits, because shanties are going up there now, and should be stopped.

Mr. Shafer thought a request to the Building Inspector would be sufficient, but the City Attorney thought differently.

Mr. Shafer moved that the Building Inspector be requested to issue no more permits for wooden buildings within the limit mentioned pending action on the ordinance. Carried.

The City Attorney presented an ordinance providing that all contractors performing street work under private contracts shall file an agreement with the Street Superintendent showing the time when the work will be begun and finished. It was read and adopted.

A lease for reservoir site No. 7 for one year, to D. F. Donegan, was presented by the City Attorney.

The Committee on School Sites of the Council and Board of Education reported, the report being as heretofore published, and it was read and approved.

The sub-committee on the inspection of sites favorably reported upon by the joint committee, which committee consisted of President Frankenfield of the Council, A. E. Pomeroy, president of the Board of Education, and Superintendent Friesner, reported that some of the sites selected are very good. The committee recommended that bids be readvertised for wherever desirable.

Mr. Pomeroy stated that some of the sites are very good, but that others are not, and the committee believed that it will be to the best interests of the city to readvertise for the whole list, and those sites which the Council wishes to approve, already selected, can be approved. By readvertising, he believes the city can save several thousand dollars.

Mr. Wirsching thought that the list should be segregated, and those sites that are suitable should be approved.

The first report was taken up seriatim, and Mr. Van Dusen moved that the sites selected in the First Ward be approved. First, the lots offered by J. E. Yoakum for $4000, in the vicinity of Thomas street and Downey avenue.

President Frankenfield at this point took the floor in support of the report of the sub-committee. He thought the Board of Education should have much to say in regard to the sites. It is elected by the people, and he believed the city would benefit to the amount of $8000 to $10,000 by readvertising for bids, some of the sites being very objectionable. He moved as a substitute for Mr. Van Dusen's motion that the report of the sub-committee be adopted.

There was no second to the motion, but the chair, Mr. Wirsching, put the motion, and it was lost, President Frankenfield voting alone in the affirmative.

Mr. Van Dusen then moved that the Yoakum site be approved.

Mr. Friesner stated that the objection to the site is the width of the frontage, which is 120 feet, when 150 feet was called for. The windows of the schoolhouse will look out on the water closets of four residences. On the opposite corner is a site 160x220 feet, which is a much more preferable site. It will be no nuisance to the neighbors, and they will not be to it, and it will be much better all around. "My object is to get the best site for a schoolhouse," he said.

President Frankenfield: There is a protest here against the Yoakum site.

Mr. Friesner: I will state that the objection I have made to this site applies to others also.

Mr. Van Dusen stated that, as far as the water closets are concerned, the people expect to get a sewer system, and then there will be no water closets. As far as the other corner is concerned, since this matter came up, a man has bought two of the four lots, and the bidder can't get them now—a job was put up on him. Mr. Van Dusen could see no objection to the site recommended.

The motion of Mr. Van Dusen to accept lots 6, 7, 8 and 9, block No. 2, of the Vignes tract, the Yoakum proposition, was adopted, Mr. Shafer voting in the negative on the ground that the frontage is not up to the amount required.

The proposition of W. Willis, for lots 1, 2, 3 and 4, block M, of the Ela Hills tract, for $1000, was, on motion of Mr. Van Dusen, approved.

Mr. Van Dusen then moved that propositions for the site in the vicinity of Pasadena and Arroyo Seco avenues be readvertised for, all bids being rejected for that location. Carried.

Mr. McLain asked until Thursday, the 10th, to make a report on the Second Ward. Granted.

The report for readvertising in the Third Ward was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Hamilton, the bid of George L. Arnold for lots in the Mead and Dalton tract, in the Sixth Ward, for $2200, was accepted.

On motion of Mr. Brown, the bid of Mrs. Mary A. Dennison for lots in the Dennison tract, Seventh Ward, was accepted.

The Eighth Ward was granted a week's further time, in accordance with the report of the joint committee.

Mr. Wirsching moved that Mrs. Kinsellar's bid of four lots on First street, in the Ninth Ward, for $3000, be accepted, and that the other two sites be readvertised for. Carried.

Recess until 2 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The recommendations of the joint committee of the Council and Board of Education, defining the size of lots offered as school sites, were, on the motion of Mr. Hamilton, adopted.

In the matter of the opening of Mott alley, Mr. Hellman appeared by his attorney to state his objections to the alley being opened. Mr. Hamilton moved that the matter be postponed indefinitely. Mr. Brown seconded the motion. Mr. Wirsching proposed as an amendment to Mr. Hamilton's motion that the matter be postponed for one week. He argued that Mr. Hamilton's motion would result in the matter being dropped for good, and that would result in a great injustice to the petitioners, on whose petition the Council had passed a favorable report. After some discussion Mr. Wirsching's motion was adopted.

On the motion of Mr. Wirsching, the Clerk was instructed to notify the petitioners of the action of the Council.

In the matter of opening the Edgeware road, Mrs. S. J. Dean appeared by her attorney, Judge O'Melveny, and stated her objections to the proposed alterations. Mrs. Dean contends that the property to be acquired by the Council has been underestimated, and she asks that a large sum be allowed to her for the house and lot.

Street Commissioner Barrett was heard on the question of valuation, and on the motion of Mr. Hamilton the protest was denied.

Mr. Shafer than moved that the report of the commission on the opening of Edgeware road be adopted. Carried.

In the matter of the lease of Reservoir Site 27, referred to the City Attorney for him to insert a clause prohibiting D. F. Donnegan from subletting to Chinamen, Mr. Shafer moved that the lease be adopted as altered by the City Attorney. Mr. Summerland seconded the motion.

Mr. Wirsching moved as an amendment that the word "not" be inserted. The amendment was seconded by Mr. Hamilton. The vote stood: For the amendment, Messrs. Frankenfield, Hamilton and Wirsching; against, Messrs. Brown, McLain, Summerland, Shafer and Van Dusen. For the original motion the voting was the same, and a two-thirds majority not being secured necessary to approve a contract, the motion was lost.

Mr. Wirsching moved that the City Attorney be instructed to take the necessary steps to remove all squatters from public lands. Adopted.

The ordinance regulating the speed of railroad trains within the city limits was returned by the Mayor without his approval, a clerical error having invalidated the ordinance. The veto of the Mayor was sustained and the ordinance, on the motion of Mr. Wirsching, was referred back to the City Attorney for amendment.

Mr. Van Dusen moved that the Street Superintendent be instructed to sign a contract with the lowest bidder to grade Soto street. Carried.

The report of the Finance Committee, as published in THE TIMES, was read and adopted.

The City Engineer reported that the estimated cost of removing the Daly-street bridge would be $2300. On the motion of Mr. Van Dusen the matter was referred to the Bridge Committee.

Ordinances of intention to establish the grades of Sepulveda street and Home street were read and adopted.

The City Engineer reported that the estimated cost of establishing a business grade on Buena Vista street between Temple and Bellevue would be $54,820.50. Referred to the Board of Public Works.

An ordinance establishing the grade of Holliday street and Kellam avenue was read and adopted.

An ordinance of intention to grade Alameda street was read and adopted.

The report of the Zanja Committee was read and adopted.

The report of the Library Committee, as published in THE TIMES, was read. In regard to the offer of the directors to pay $25 per month toward the expense of running the elevator, the matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Board of Health requested the Council to pass an ordinance requiring the Health Officer to report all cases of contagious diseases. Referred to the Board of Health.

The report of the Sewer Committee recommended that the sewer on Temple street be relaid. Carried.

The recommendation of the Committee that the Street Superintendent be instructed to enter into a contract with the

FANNY DAVENPORT.

SHE SCOUTS A RIDICULOUS SAN FRANCISCO STORY.

Her Husband One of the Kindest Men in the World—He Dares Not Even Look Cross in Her Presence—Cruel Attack on Mr. McDowell.

Fanny Davenport says she has more trouble with newspapers than any other actress in the United States, but the fair Fanny is mistaken, for on cross-examination she admits that she has a number of friends among the pencil-pushers. Yesterday she was considerably worked up over an article in the San Francisco Examiner of Sunday last. The lady left San Francisco early Sunday morning for this city, in company with her troupe, and did not read the Examiner until she was some distance on the road. The Examiner's recital of the reasons why Miss Davenport disappointed a $1200 house in San Francisco, Saturday night, reads as follows:

A sensation marked the closing day of Fanny Davenport's engagement at the Baldwin Theater.

The advance sale for the performance last night was $700, and the house would have netted $1200, but the money was all returned and a small card at the box-office last night announced that owing to the illness of Miss Davenport there would be no performance.

Naturally, the unexpected sickness of a famous actress at such a time caused a great deal of excitement in the neighborhood of the theater, and everyone was convinced that the old story that La Tosca would bring trouble sooner or later to any one playing the piece had some truth in it.

Fanny Davenport went through the matinée performance to the satisfaction of the audience, and apparently everything passed off all right.

But behind the scenes there was an episode of an exciting character. At the close of the last act the actress was seen to stagger and fall into the arms of one of the employés in the wings.

Amid some confusion she was carried to her dressing-room, and in a short time removed to her apartments in the Baldwin Hotel.

Such is the statement made by the attachés of the house, and her sickness is said to have been caused by nervous prostration. It it is true that she was taken sick at the matinée, that fact was carefully concealed from everyone about the place. No notice of it was sent to the manager of the theater and none to the boxoffice treasurer.

The sale of tickets went on as usual, and owing to the close of the Jewish holiday it was unusually large last night. No intimation of any kind was given until the audience arrived and then they were told that Miss Davenport could not play, and their money was refunded. Even then no cause was assigned for her sickness, and no one about the house could tell what was the matter. But while the cause of her illness seemed to be involved in impenetrable mystery in the theater, on the outside of the house plenty of reasons were given. It was currently reported around the various resorts that the cause of the illness was a quarrel with her husband, Melbourne McDowell, that had ended in a personal conflict. This story was repeated around the neighborhood until half the town had heard that violence had caused the house to be closed and a large sum of money refunded. The rapid spread of the story was due in a great measure to the course pursued by the people in the theater and hotel.

Melbourne McDowell refused to see any one, and callers were told that he was sick in bed. Some time after that he was seen to hurry through the rotunda of the hotel and make his way to his rooms, with a speed hardly compatible with a sickness severe enough to confine him to his couch. Notes sent to his room were not received, and cards could not be got past the hotel clerk, who declared that Mr. McDowell was too ill to see any one.

There was quite an excitement around town, and McDowell's extraordinary refusal to see callers had the effect of making people believe that there was some truth in the current gossip. A word from him or the physician would have set the matter at rest, but that word could not be got.

The ushers thought it was nervous prostration and so did the box-office boy, but that was all that they could tell about the cause for disappointing more than 1000 patrons of the house. The explanation was accepted with every sign of incredulity. Nervous prostration is a term used to cover a multitude of complaints. When a certain eminent actor indulged so freely in stimulants and sedatives that he could not appear on the stage, his managing partner used to walk down to the footlights and inform the audience that, owing to a severe attack of nervous prostration, the great actor would not be able to appear. When a certain great actress of the emotional school was beaten by her husband and kicked downstairs, the manager of the theater would always send a note of regret to the newspapers and explain that nervous prostration was the cause of his star's inability to perform that night. When mind-reader Bishop had an attack of nervous prostration his medical advisers always used to treat him for an overdose of sedatives, and managed to effect a cure in this way. Still, though the term nervous prostration has come to be regarded either as an excuse on which to strike for a raise of salary or a veil to hide the real cause of illness from the public, it is the only designation for a certain form of sickness, and its use does not give rise to any suspicion unless there are some facts to back the suspicion up.

Fanny Davenport's career since she first presented the nerve-harassing play, La Tosca, has occupied a great deal of public attention. Whether it justifies the story that the play brings evil fortune to the actors depends on how people look at things. When Fanny Davenport bought the play she was the wife of Mr. Price, who was her manager. The pair were often referred to as a living example of the falsity of the charge that theatrical alliances are always unhappy. He was regarded as a model husband and she as a pattern for wives to copy.

But soon after La Tosca was put in rehearsal there came stories of a coolness between the couple, though both denied that there was any trouble. Gossip, as is generally the case, proved to have a good foundation. In a short time they separated. When the piece was first put on in New York, Frank Mordaunt, who was once a partner in the California Theater with McKee Rankin, played the part of "Scarpia," and made a sensation by the coarseness and brutality of his way of acting a coarse and brutal rôle. When Fanny Davenport took the piece on the road Mordaunt was shelved and Melbourne McDowell taken on in his place.

At that time McDowell had a wife and family. La Tosca brought evil fortune to them. Soon after he began playing with Fanny Davenport McDowell's wife found herself sadly neglected or cruelly treated, while it was common talk that the actor's attentions to the star were something more than the exigencies of their professional relations required. The actor and actress seemed to have made up their minds that the fate which had given each of them to another was an unkind one, to be circumvented if possible. The lady is said to have a will of her own, and her will in this case proved to be the law. It took two divorces and a marriage to arrange things to her satisfaction, and pending their adjustment the whole country was enlivened with scandal after scandal. McDowell's cruel treatment of his wife was as common a theme for talk as Fanny Davenport's forgetfulness of the duty she owed her husband.

When the news of her illness spread around town last night there was not wanting those who said that a part of the ill luck La Tosca had brought her was the realization of the fact that a husband who has been cruel to one wife is a very dangerous experiment for a second wife to venture upon.

Miss Davenport and her company arrived at the Wolfskill depot at 7:25 yesterday morning and she and her husband were driven to the Nadeau House, where they had breakfast in a private room. From there they were driven to the Santa Fé depot and took the 8:40 train for San Diego, where the company played last night.

A TIMES reporter called on Miss Davenport and asked if she wished to make a statement of any kind.

"The story is untrue in every respect with the exception that I did not appear Saturday night, and the audience had to be turned away. I am greatly worried over this affair, not so much for myself as for my husband, who is one of the kindest men in the world. He has never spoken an unkind word to me, and it was partly his great regard for me that caused me to disappoint the public of San Francisco Saturday night. I have not been well for some days, and my doctor told me late Saturday afternoon that I could not appear that night if I wished to make this trip, and when my husband insisted on my remaining away from the theater I did so, and the audience was dismissed. He went off to attend an evening rehearsal, and did not return until 9 o'clock. While he was away there were several ladies in my room, who can state that at the very time the Examiner says my husband was beating me, he was not there. Had the reporter taken the trouble to come to the Baldwin Hotel, he would have found both my husband and myself, and two minutes would have convinced him that there was no truth in the report. I am satisfied that the reporter who wrote that article has a grudge against Mr. McDowell. I can't look at it in any other light."

Mr. McDowell was positive that he and his wife had never indulged in a quarrel of any kind. "Why, sir, I dare not look cross in the presence of my wife. If I want to get mad I have to go outside of the house where she can't see me. I would not do anything to hurt her feelings for the world. Tom Williams wrote that article. He heard some talk about the theater, when the announcement was made that my wife could not appear and in his usual go-lucky way he jumped at conclusions and wrote it up without making an investigation."

All kinds of stories were in circulation on the streets yesterday. Several persons saw Miss Davenport as she was driven through the streets, and they were positive that she had a black eye, but such is not the case. There was not a mark of any kind on her face, and she seemed to be all right.

"ON WHEELS."

A Representation of the State Exhibit Here.

The second campaign of "California on Wheels," the special train exhibition of the State Board of Trade throughout the East, promises to be even more successful than the first trip of nine months recently finished. Gavin D. High, assistant city editor of the San Francisco Daily Report, and advance agent of the "California On Wheels," arrived yesterday afternoon in this city upon his preliminary trip through Southern California. His object is to thoroughly familiarize himself with the merits of the southern part of the State, and to assure the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that in his contract with the newspaper men of the East this end of the State will receive a fair representation. Mr. High spent about six months in Southern California during 1886-87, and is therefore qualified to speak upon the net progress it has made since that time.

In conversation with a TIMES reporter last evening, the advance agent said: "The progress made by Los Angeles during the last three years has been to me most surprising. It fully equals the predictions of the alleged 'boomers' of '86, and the new Los Angeles will be a revelation to anyone who has not seen it for two or three years. Its fine massive buildings, its convenient systems of cable roads and the extent of its bituminous pavements exceed the expectation of the most sanguine of the visitors of the fall of 1886. The next few days can be spent by me with a great deal of personal interest looking over Los Angeles and its suburbs, and noting its gigantic strides. Boom or no boom, the fact remains that large brick buildings are still in the process of construction, giving evidence not only of the stability of the present, but of the faith capitalists have for the future of the city and surroundings.

The second tour of the "California on Wheels" will begin about the first week in November and will last about a year. Should the idea of continuing the exhibition to Europe prevail, it will last longer. When Canada and the Northern and Eastern States are frozen, a special train of three cars containing samples of the agricultural and horticultural products of the whole State, together with daily temperature telegrams from various cities of the United States denoting our mild winter, will be an interesting object-lesson which cannot fail to interest those of the East who are thinking of moving westward. The State Board of Trade does not desire to unsettle or depopulate the East; it merely wishes to attract to California those who have made up their minds to pull up stakes and go somewhere."

Mr. High will go to San Diego in a few days and see what advancement the extreme southern end of the State has been making.

THE DOWNEY FAIR.

The Opening to Take Place Today —Programme.

The Sixth Annual Fair of the Los Angeles County Agricultural Association, at Downey, begins today, and promises to be the most successful ever giv en there.

The opening address will be by Supervisor A. E. Davis.

The programme for today is as follows:

10:00 a.m.—Exhibition of carriage teams in harness.

10:30 a.m.—Exhibition of single carriage horses in harness.

11:00 a.m.—Exhibition of farm teams.

2:00 p.m.—Opening address by A. E. Davis.

3:30 p.m.—Running race, for 2-year-olds, free for all, one mile dash; purse, $50; $30 to first, $20 to second.

The Escaped Convict.

No news of Andrew Bellarsich, the escaped convict, was received at the Sheriff's office yesterday. Sheriff Aguirre has offered a reward of $50 for his capture. Bellarsich is a native of Australia and has easily distinguished marks by which he can be recognized. He is 21 years old, and 5 feet 6¼ inches in height, weighing 158 pounds. He has brown eyes, brown hair, fair complexion, and is of medium build. There is a scar on his left elbow, on the back of both hands. He has a large mouth, and speaks with a slight foreign accent. Every effort will be made to find Bellarsich, but he has a good start and the officers are not very hopeful of getting on his trail.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

THE SCHOOL DESK DEAL UTTERLY DEMORALIZED.

And the Bids Thrown Out Entirely —Other Proposals to be Invited —A Multiplicity of Sites for the High School Offered—Pupils Enrolled—Whaling.

The Board of Education met at the City Hall yesterday evening, all the members being present, with President A. E. Pomeroy in the chair.

The minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved.

A communication from Mrs. Ritchie, asking that the school fees of her daughter be remitted, was read. Mr. Ellis moved that the matter be referred to the Teachers' Committee to be investigated. Mr. Whaling moved that the request be immediately granted. The motion of Mr. Ellis was agreed to.

A communication was received from Henry Ludlam, offering to give one year's tuition in elocution, free, to the pupil who, during the year, gives the highest satisfaction.

The residents of West Side petitioned that a school building be erected in the neighborhood of the Highland Dairy. Referred to the Building Committee.

Petitions for the position of janitor from Frederick Moulton, Samuel Owens and E. M Snyder were referred to the Janitorship Committee.

A communication was received from the City Clerk announcing that the elevator would be run from 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., the Board of Education being exing expected to bear one-fourth of the expense. Referred to a special committee, to consist of Messrs. Powers and Woodbury.

An offer was received from the First Baptist Church to allow its premises to be used for school purposes at a rent of $15 per month. Referred to the Sites Committee.

A communication was received from Dr. MacGowan, the Health Officer, calling attention to the fact that, under a recent act of the Legislature, all children must be vaccinated. Referred to the Superintendent of Public Schools.

A petition from the residents of the southwest portion of the First Ward, asking that a school site be chosen there, was referred to the Building Committee.

An offer of a site for a school and play-ground on Olive street, from Mrs. Hickey, was referred to the Building Committee.

An offer to supply certain desks at $2.75 apiece, by E. Moat, 7 North Main street, was referred to the Supply Committee. Mr. Whaling here managed to get in a short speech entirely irrelevant to the point in question.

The report of the Finance Committee showed that there is standing to the credit of the board the sum of $34,848.90.

The following bills were read and approved: Brown & Foster Hardware Company, $22.80; S. M. Perry, $68.64; Lazarus & Melzar, $53.25, $7.80, $316.72, $556.28; Mellor & Cook, $85.45; I. M. Braykon, $24; W. W. Cummings, $79.60; Scrimer & Quinn, $255, $23.60; Sunset Telephone Company, $10, $3.10; Herron & Dixon, $1.04, $27, $70.50; W. W. Herron, $21; W. R. Phelps, $285; S. D. Savage, $21; Schallert & Co., $173.85, $8.45; I. H. Boyd, $5.91; A. C. Badder, $8; Eckstrom & Strasburg, $3.84; Los Angeles Furnishing Company, $114.75; I. C. Brown, $3; Charles J. Walters, $14.50; Ayers & Lynch, $9.14; Evening Express, $19, $6; Tribune, $7; F. W. Hamilton, $71.80; S. W. Cook & Co., $1120.67; Mrs. Philbrook, $40; Meyberg Bros. $12.50; J. W. Robinson, $82.40; H. B. Idler, $30, $15; Hellman, Haas & Co., $40.71, $70.50; I. N. Bradburn, $21.50; L. H. Williams, $60; A. W. Patton, $24.50; Salaries, $803.15.

The Superintendent reported that there are 6353 children on the rolls, against 6188 at the same time last year, an increase of 165.

The Committee of Supplies reported that certain plumbing is necessary at the Castelar-street schools. The janitor was heard on the question, and stated that the Health Officer had reported the sanitary arrangements of the school very defective. Referred to the Building Committee.

Mr. Whaling declined to vote, as no opportunity was given to him to make a speech.

The clerk was instructed to readvertise for bids to supply 150 tons of coal on or before the 1st of December next.

The resignation of Mrs. C. A. Burr was accepted. Misses S. A. Vaughan, M. L. Pinkham and Mrs. E. W. Winston and L. P. Wilson were appointed as teachers. Miss M. H. Wooster was transferred to the High School, and one month's leave of absence was granted to Miss C. C. Vivian.

Mr. Whaling now arose and spoke at some length upon kindergarten schools. He traced the history of these institutions from the time of Julius Cæsar, and wound up with a legal diagnosis of the question of their formation in this city.

Mr. Ellis explained the attitude of the Teachers' Committee toward the kindergarten schools, and the report of the committee was adopted.

Mr. Whaling again arose and addressed the board at some length on things in general, and was understood to be himself strongly in favor of kindergarten schools.

The Committee on Telephones recommended that instruments be placed in each of the schools. The telephone company offered to place the instruments on the premises at a cost of $10 apiece, and to charge therefor a rent of $4 per month.

Mr. Whaling wished the board to understand that he was strongly opposed to the Superintendent being encouraged in his habits of laziness by a labor-saving machine like the telephone. The Superintendent ought to roll up his sleeves and go to work amongst the schools as if he took some interest in his work, and if he didn't care to do so, the member for the Eighth Ward thought a new Superintendent should be found. The report of the committee was adopted.

Mr. Powers gave notice that he would bring the matter up for reconsideration at the next meeting.

The report of the special committee on the number of school-rooms necessary was read. The number of rooms necessary to give all the schools full day-time, is as follows:

Hellman-street district, 3 rooms; Griffin-avenue district, 1 room; Breed-street district, 4 rooms; Railroad-street district, 1 room; Amelia-street district, 2 rooms; Garey-street district, 1 room; Seventh-street district, 3 rooms; Castelar-street district, 4 rooms; Temple-street district, 5 rooms; Sand-street district, 4 rooms; Pearl-street district, 1 room; Spring-street district, 6 rooms; Eighth-street district, 2 rooms; Brooklyn-street district, 1 room. Total, 39 rooms. This estimate does not include the rooms now rented, nor those temporary sheds which should be abandoned when permanent buildings are provided. The actual number of permanent school-rooms needed in the city is much greater than 39.

A long discussion followed, it seeming to be the general opinion of the board that sufficient accommodation should be provided to insure full school day time in every district. Mr. Gosper explained that one of the chief difficulties in supplying school room had been the fact that there is no school furniture ready to be placed in position. The report was referred back to the Building Committee, with power to act.

Mr. McIntosh read a long minority report on the question of school desks, pointing out the fact that there is something radically wrong in the bids already in. He moved that the bids already in be rejected, and that new bids be readvertised for by the Clerk. Mr. Whaling seconded the motion.

Mr. Powers said that the committee had carefully investigated the charges made in the papers that the city is being swindled in the matter of prices of school-desks. They could not find that there is anything in the charges, and they were perfectly satisfied that the desks recommended are the cheapest and best ever used in the Los Angeles schools.

Mr. Welch, the agent of the Bancroft Company of San Francisco, was requested to explain to the board the merits of the desks. He said that, aside from the question of freight, the desks are laid down here at the same price as in San Francisco.

Mr. Humphreys, representative of Bancroft Bros., was also heard as to the merits and prices of their desks. He explained that the board would really get its desks on an average of about 70 cents apiece cheaper than those supplied to Riverside. He stated that the new improved Triumph is offered to Los Angeles cheaper than to any other place in Southern California. Mr. Humphreys, in answer to Mr. Whaling, admitted that the freight on each desk would be about 70 cents, and inasmuch as the firm four months ago laid down the same desk in Los Angeles at $4.70, and they now ask $4.80 apiece, the adding the 70 cents for freight would bring the price up to $5 apiece, laid down in Los Angeles. There was a very evident attempt on the part of certain members of the board to slur over the matter of price, and to have the desks recommended by the committee, and adopted by the board on the question of their superiority over other desks.

Mr. Ellis was particularly earnest in his efforts to induce the board to adopt the majority report, insisting that some desks would be cheaper at $10 than others at $5. The majority report was then rejected by a vote of 5 to 4, Messrs. Cox, Frew, Whaling, McIntosh and Pomeroy voting in the negative.

Mr. Powers moved that the Clerk be instructed to advertise for school desks, to be delivered in Los Angeles within the next 14 days, and that each bid be accompanied by a certified check for $500. Carried.

Mr. Gosper moved that the Building Committee act in conjunction with Mr. Muchmore to inspect the school buildings. Carried.

An offer of a High-school site on Griffin avenue at a price of $12,000, by Mrs. Delavas, and one on Orange and Farragut street at a price of $30,000 from the St. Paul's School Company; also, offers of a High-school site on Olive street by A. W. Ryan, one on Locust street at a price of $6000, and one in Feldhauser's subdivision at a price of $15,000 by J. F. Burns; also, site on corner of Boyle avenue at a price of $25,000 by Joseph Hyans; also, a site in the Workman Park tract by W. H. Workman at a price of $9000; also, a lot on Ninth and Flower by Louis Gottschalk at the price of $18,000, were referred to the Building Committee without instructions.

The meeting then adjourned.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The Mining Boom Days of Catalina Island Recalled.

The Historical Society of Southern California met in Justice Austin's court-room last evening. The attendance was quite large and the exercises more than usually interesting.

Prof. J. M. Guinn gave a graphic description of a mining boom on the Island of Santa Cantalina, in 1863. A large portion of the northwestern part of the island was staked off in claims, a site for a city located, and Queen City became the mining metropolis of Santa Catalina. Companies were incorporated with capital stock bordering on millions. The honest miners thought they had struck it rich, but they had no money to develop their mines. Washoe stocks had flooded the market. The miners were compelled to abandon their claims, leaving their riches behind them. The wild goats came down from the mountains and ate up the mining notices, dips, spurs, angles and all.

Dr. J. E. Clarke presented an interesting paper on pioneer reminiscences of the building of the Panama Railroad. His observations on the habits of some of the animals and insects of the isthmus showed him to be a close student of Nature.

The society is doing a valuable work for the future, and deserves encouragement from the public.

Sweetwater Dam Settlement.

[San Diego Union.]

The Union is reliably informed that negotiations are in progress for the settlement of the litigation between the Land and Town Company and George Neale affecting the Sweetwater dam. It is believed the negotiations will eventuate in satisfactory settlement of all controversy. So great is the probability of this that the Union will venture to congratulate all parties interested on the event.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is a peculiar medicine. It is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Pipsissewa, Juniper Berries, and other well-known and valuable vegetable remedies, by a peculiar combination, proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla curative power not possessed by other medicines. It effects remarkable cures where other preparations fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best blood purifier before the public. It eradicates every impurity, and cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Boils, Pimples, all Humors, Dyspepsia, Billiousness, Sick Headache, Indigestion, General Debility, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver Complaints, overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite and builds up the system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has met peculiar and unparalled success at home. Such has become its popularity in Lowell, Mass., where it is made, that whole neighborhoods are taking it at the same time. Lowell druggists sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than of all other sarsaparillas or blood purifiers.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by Druggists, $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

THE Pan-American Congress continues to be the subject of much comment in Europe. The North German Gazette regards the congress as a means of attracting the attention of the whole Western Hemisphere to the imposing preponderance of industrial enterprises and commerce of the United States, with a view to the proposed international exhibition of 1892. Bismarck's organ will discover that there is more in this congress than it imagines.

A LEADING San Francisco journal, devoted entirely to realty interests, says, in connection with present extravagance in that city's municipal government.

> The absurdity of a comparatively small city like San Francisco being assessed at almost exactly double what an immense city like Chicago is assessed at, is an outrage that every one will at once readily see and denounce the moment he reads the figures. But mountainous as are our real-estate assessments here, and outrageously high as taxes are to be this year, Boss Buckley and many newspapers here do not think they are yet nearly high enough.

THE letter of Col. Fred Grant to the editor of the New York World, on the subject of the removal of the remains of Gen. Grant from Riverside to Washington, is regarded in Washington by the friends of the family as a tacit assent to the proposition of the Washington Post, to bring the remains to the Capital and have a suitable national monument erected over them. This plan was, of course, to be contingent upon obtaining the full consent of the widow and the family of Gen. Grant. The letter of Col. Fred Grant is regarded as virtually giving this. It is quite certain now that a bill will be introduced upon the assembling of Congress providing for the removal and making an appropriation for a monument. Such a course would be a deserved rebuke to New York for the shameful neglect which it has shown to the memory of Grant.

AN INTRICATE PROBLEM — THE SILVER QUESTION.

The question of the relative position of silver in the economy of the world's financial market is one which is at present arousing much attention, not only in the United States, but in Europe. In Europe, Great Britain is beginning to feel the pressure of a depressed silver market in its East India possessions, where silver is the commercial currency. The relations between the market value of silver and of cotton and wheat are very close, and react upon this country in a manner which is becoming more generally understood by the producers of those articles.

Here, in the United States, the chief interest in silver is found in the Rocky Mountain region, and the country west of that. In sympathy with this region are the great grain-growing sections of the West and Northwest. So plainly is this line drawn, that the section west of the Mississippi is generally regarded as the stronghold of the silver advocates and the east of the gold bugs. California, while not an important producer of silver, is greatly interested in the appreciation in value of the metal. Just suppose that the value of silver should rise from 93 to the par value of 1.29. What an impetus would this give to the mining industry throughout the Rocky Mountain region, and consequently to business on the coast, to which section mining regions look for so much of their supplies. An increase of 30 per cent. in the value of silver would mean the resumption of work on hundreds of old claims in Arizona, the opening of hundreds of new ones, and a consequent increase of hundreds of thousands of dollars in the annual receipts of Los Angeles merchants.

Arrangements have been made for a National Silver Convention at St. Louis, the delegates to embrace the representatives of all industries in the country, as well as of the silver mining sections, and particularly of the agricultural interests. This convention is to be held on the 26th of next month. The committee, in an address to the people of the United States, expresses its belief that the subject to be discussed and the objects sought to be attained, namely, the rehabilitation of silver as one of the money metals of this country as contemplated by our Federal Constitution, are matters of the supremest moment to the welfare of our people. Among the interesting points made in the address are the following:

Since the demonetization of silver by the leading nations of the Old World, followed by the same movement on the part of the United States, we have seen a correspondingly steady decline in prices of commodities everywhere; a depression in trade and business enterprises almost unparalleled in history.

We have seen in this country a financial panic (that of 1873-4), following closely upon the suspension of the coinage of silver by Germany, France, the Latin Union and the United States, such as never before in our history crushed the spirit of our people.

This demonetization of silver, worked by law, a practical confiscation of the earnings of labor, the products and property of debtors, and transferred them without adequate consideration to the coffers of creditors, and depressed the markets for labor and its products throughout the world.

Although in this country there has been a partial restoration of silver coinage by the act of February 28, 1878, yet that act, which authorized and required the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase and coin not less than two million dollars nor more than four million dollars' worth of silver bullion per month, has not been executed in the spirit in which it was enacted. The minimum amount of only two millions per month has been the constant and almost unvarying rule governing the Treasury officials in the purchase and coinage of silver bullion, by virtue of this law. The consequence has been, that all commodities, measured in terms of money as fixed by an arbitrary gold standard, have declined from year to year till the present time.

The panic of 1873-4 still lingers with us. Now and then short revivals of business prosperity have taken place, but they were of very short duration and were quickly followed by long periods of lower levels in prices.

Thoughtful men and the ablest political economists of this and other leading nations have called attention to the fact that the suspension of the use of silver as one of the money metals has been the main, if not the sole, cause of this trade stagnation. Such was the opinion of the United States Silver Commission of 1876, and of the Royal Commission of Great Britain in its report in 1888, as well as of the ablest economists of the entire commercial world.

In this opinion we fully concur. The question is, "What shall be done?" We believe that our Senators and Representatives in Congress should be urged to restore silver to its ancient use as money by giving it free coinage. This will place it on an equality with gold, and we believe at a par with that metal. Until this is accomplished it should be earnestly insisted upon that the maximum amount of $4,000,000 worth of bullion should be coined per month.

This is not demanded in the interest of the silver miner, although that interest adds near $50,000,000 annually to our wealth, and that, too, in the face of the fact that it is practically outlawed by our Government in its mint regulations.

We produce nearly half of the annual silver product of the world, and surely it cannot be reasonably complained of, that this mining interest will be benefited by its use as money when we reflect that from time immemorial it has by all nations, until recently, been so used, especially when we contemplate the direful effects this demonetization has caused. Vast as this mineral wealth is, permeating as it does the mountains and plains of our great Western States and Territories, yet it is a mere incident to be entirely subordinated to the great question of the metallic basis for our circulating medium.

That the stock of gold in the world is wholly insufficient as a basis for its money, all now admit. That silver must be restored, the thoughtful statesmen of this and other countries declare to be the pressing monetary reform.

ANOTHER CHINESE PROBLEM.

We are likely soon to be confronted with another phase of the coolie question. The Canadian Government levies an entrance fee of $50 on every coolie. This is a good thing for Canada, but a bad one for the United States, for the coolies who pay $50 apiece to our northern neighbor are creeping over the Canadian frontier in large numbers.

Now comes the British Government and draws the attention of the Canadian authorities to the "danger which this unfriendly tax threatens to the treaty relations between Great Britain and China." The carrying out of this policy would mean an immense increase of Chinese immigration to British Columbia and, consequently, across the border into the United States.

There are grave consequences to be expected from this foreshadowing of British policy in regard to coolie emigration from a British port, for most of the coolies come from Hong Kong. Complications may arise between England and the United States, or even between England and Canada, for it cannot be that the people of Canada desire to see an unrestricted immigration of Chinese, many of whom would remain in Canadian territory.

THOSE good people who call themselves "Nationalists" and take Mr. Bellamy's "Looking Backward" for their bible are just now urging the acquisition of the railroads by the Government. The London Railway Times does not appear to share the theory of these visionaries. That journal, in a recent issue, says:

"When, as in some of our largest stations, 600 or 700 trains run in and out every day with safety and punctuality, it speaks well for the managers and for the men who carry out their instructions. It is more than doubtful whether the State could work the railways as satisfactorily as they are being worked by their present owners, and the doubt is strengthened by every case where the Government department has been brought into competition with private firms. For example, if a ship is to be built, which will turn it out quickest and best, Chatham dockyard or one of the great private firms? Again, among the thousands of trains running through the country from year's end to year's end how rarely do we hear of any break-down through defective machinery. On the other hand our navy can hardly put to sea in full strength without some defect manifesting itself. Truly, if State officials were ever to manage our railways they would need a long education and much reforming before they attained the efficiency of an Allport or an Oakley."

CHARLES F. CROCKER is reported as saying in a San Francisco daily:

"When there is sufficient development to warrant it we will build to San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara, and complete our system in the San Joaquin Valley, and not until then. Bondholders have to be paid their interest, the United States requirements have to be made good, a great deal of money has to be paid away in one direction or another, and there is nothing left for the stockholders. That is about the situation, and until there is an improvement we don't feel justified in incurring further obligations."

THE Chronicle of Sunday last contained an article on the beautiful floral homes of San Francisco, with half a dozen illustrations. It is safe to say that not one of the homes depicted would receive more than a passing glance were it upon a Los Angeles street.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—The first appearance here of Henry Chanfrau in the play of Kit, the Arkansaw Traveler, last night, was honored by the presence of a full and friendly house.

The title rôle sustained by Mr. Chanfrau is the character made familiar to play-goers for many years by his father, Frank Chanfrau, who was always a great favorite with the public. The son seems destined to obtain the same amount of popularity, and really deserves it, for a very careful, conscientious and intelligent rendition of a difficult character part. He is manly, quiet, determined and energetic at the right moment, avoiding those exaggerations which would seem almost inevitable amid such surroundings. In dialect and dress he is exact, and has numberless fine touches which show the genuine artist.

The play has been before the public so long that every one knows it for what it is, a border melodrama of the most approved order, full of startling incidents, embellished with cuts and perfumed with the smell of powder throughout. The plot is not of much consequence—it is simple enough—but the happenings are all of the most exciting kind, and succeed each other with a rapidity which is almost surprising. Pistols and knives are common all the way through the piece, and house-burning, steamboat explosion, abduction and duel are thrown in for seasoning.

The support is in the main quite good for the style a piece presented. R. C. White and Gerald Stuart make a very good sketch of the two "whisky bums," and Scott Cooper plays the villain in a natural and effective style. Miss Ethel Brandon plays the dual character of mother in the prologue and child in the play, with great good taste and expression. She has dramatic ability which would find better scope in more important characters.

The piece was very favorably received by the audience and will, no doubt, draw good houses tonight and tomorrow.

LOS ANGELES THEATER.—The advance sale of seats for the opening of Herrmann, the prestidigitateur, began yesterday morning, and the indications point to a crowded house at the opening tomorrow evening.

Survivors of Disaster.

DALHOUSIE (New Brunswick), Oct. 7.—The bark Peticodiac has arrived here with the master and 11 men of the ship Minnie Swift, together with nine men belonging to the bark Leulette of North Shields and six cattlemen of the steamer Geographique, recently sunk near St. Pierre. Four men, the stewardess and Miss Masters, a passenger on the Minnie Swift, were drowned and one man is missing.

The captain, two boys and two men of the Leulette were drowned and one man is missing. The latter people were of the rescued crew from the North Shields vessel on board the Minnie Swift when run into by the steamer Geographique.

WASHINGTON.

A Los Angeles Land Case Decided.

The Cruiser Charleston's Builders Must Forfeit $30,000.

A District of Columbia Man to be Director of the Mint.

Grangers Growling Because the President Did Not Appoint a Cabinet Officer at Their Dictation, Etc.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] Secretary Noble today rendered an important decision in the case of Samuel R. Childs vs. the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. Childs applied to make a homestead entry, which was rejected by the local land officers at Los Angeles, on the ground that the tract was within the primary limits of the grant made to the railroad company, July 27, 1866. The case came before the Secretary on an appeal from a decision by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, which affirmed the action of the local office in rejecting the application, upon the ground that the tract was embraced, at the date when the company's rights attached under its grant, within the exterior boundaries or claimed limits of certain Mexican private land grants known as San Jacinto Viejo and San Jacinto Nuevo and being, upon the final survey and definite location of said grants subsequently made, excluded from the limits thereof and thereby restores to the public domain, was not subject to homestead entry at the date when appellant's application to enter the same was made.

The Secretary in his decision today holds that the grants named were "floats" embraced within the outside limits of the larger area, and if such larger area lies within the limits of said land grant, made in aid of the railroad, such land grant would take effect except as to quantity of land or "float" actually granted in the Mexican grant, and if that quantity, lying together, was left to satisfy the Mexican grant, the railroad company would be entitled to patents for the odd sections of the remainder. The action of the General Land Office is therefore affirmed.

This decision follows that of the Supreme Court in the case of the United States vs. McLaughlin, rendered May 14, 1888, and practically overruling all previous decisions of the Interior Department in similar cases.

NAVAL AFFAIRS.

The Charleston's Contractors Will Have to Forfeit $30,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] In a few days the Bureaus of Construction, Repair and Engineering will have completed calculating upon the official report of the trial of the Charleston, and when that is done the Navy Department will accept the vessel. The contractors, the Union Iron Works Company of San Francisco, will suffer a penalty of $30,000 for lack of horse-power, the contract calling for 7000 and but 6700 being indicated, and there will be deducted from the payment the estimated cost of a possible extra propeller and other apparatus which cannot be accurately determined until a sea voyage has demonstrated the necessity for it.

Mr. Cramp, of the Philadelphia shipbuilding firm, will be in Washington tomorrow for a conference with the Secretary of the Treasury, when a settlement on account of the Baltimore is expected.

The report of Rear-Admiral Jouett's board of inspection of the Dolphin is upon the desk of Secretary Tracy, and will not be given out for several days. It is understood to be a very complimentary document.

THE GRANGERS COMPLAIN.

They Think They Were Snubbed by the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] The twenty-third session of the National Grange, which is to be held at Sacramento, Cal., November 13th, promises to be the most important held for years. John Trimble, secretary of the Grange, thinks the Grangers were snubbed when President Harrison appointed Gov. Rusk Secretary of Agriculture. In an interview in the Post Trimble says: "We do not hesitate to say that the Administration ignored the rights of farmers and has done the farming community a gross injustice in placing a politician who never was a farmer at the head of the Department of Agriculture. That department was made a Cabinet office principally through the efforts of the Grange, and when the new Administration came in we felt we had the right to suggest the name of some person to fill it. Col. J. H. Brigham, our master, ex-Gov. Roble of Maine, and Hon. J. J. Woodman of Michigan were suggested by our order and their appointment urged. Harrison deliberately ignored the entire order—snubbed it in fact."

AN APPOINTMENT.

Edward C. Leech Becomes Director of the Mint.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] President Harrison today appointed Edward C. Leech of the District of Columbia Director of the Mint.

The appointment meets general favor in the Treasury Department, being regarded as in the true line of civil service reform—"promotion for merit"—and in general one of the best appointments made by the present Administration. Leech was recommended for the position by the entire Pacific Coast delegation, by Senators and leading Republicans of New York State, and by a host of other distinguished public men familiar with his services and ability.

The Navassa Troubles.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The State Department is in receipt of a partial report by W. G. Allen, United States Consul to Kingston, Jamaica, of the recent riot at Navassa. It agrees with the press accounts already published, and has in addition a letter from Mr. Hensin, spiritual adviser of the laborers, giving their version of the trouble. The letter is addressed to the American Consul at Kingston, Jamaica. They claim that the whites fired on them without provocation, and it was in the defense of their lives that they killed some of their white bosses. They say they are American citizens, 136 in number, and want the Consul to arrange for their transportation back to the United States.

Railroaders Going Abroad.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—C. F. Crocker, vice-president of the Southern Pacific Company; Russel J. Wilson, Evan J. Coleman and J. B. Wright arrived here from San Francisco last night in Crocker's private car to attend the conclave of Knights Templar. They were received by California Commandery tonight, and will leave Washington in a few days for New York, where they will take a steamer for Havre on Saturday.

Mails Plundered.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Chief Postoffice Inspector Rathbone has received information that the Florence and Casa Grande (Ariz.) stage was robbed last Wednesday by two Mexicans. All the mail was taken. Officers are in pursuit.

W. A. Baldwin of Pueblo, Colo., has been arrested for using the mails for fraudulent purposes.

Lieut.-Col. Fletcher's Case.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The findings of the court-martial that tried Lieut.-Col. Fletcher at Omaha barracks, last summer, have reached the President's desk. The impression prevails in army circles that the Court found Lieut.-Col. Fletcher guilty, with a recommendation to mercy.

A FAMILY FEUD.

It Results in the Death of Several Persons.

ST. ALBANS (W.Va.), Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] A bloody feud is raging in Lincoln county between the Bromfield and Hall families. Floyd Dingess, a prominent man, married one of the Hall girls. He quarrelled with his wife. They separated, and next day Dingess and his wife's brother met and the former was shot dead. Alfred Bromfield, Dingess's brother-in-law, fatally wounded one of the Hall brothers.

Ten days ago Bromfield and wife were waylaid, and Mrs. Bromfield was killed and Bromfield was terribly wounded.

Two days later Purvis Bromfield was shot.

On Saturday George Dingess, brother of Bromfield's wife, was shot through the leg in a fight with one of the opposing party.

George's Lieutenant in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Judge James G. Maguire of San Francisco, Henry George's chief lieutenant on the Pacific Coast, is in the city as the guest of the Chicago Single Tax Club. In an interview he reaffirmed his position in opposition to papal interference in politics, declared that protective tariff should be abolished. "The adoption of the single tax is in my opinion," he said, "destined to be the next great step in the order of social evolution. The time is ripe for it and thinking men of the world are being attracted toward it." He declared this the only refuge from socialism.

Mme. Albertine Dead.

NEW BEDFORD (Mass.), Oct. 7.—Mme. Albertine, the blind actress, died yesterday after a lingering illness. She had a checkered career. For a number of years she had a company of her own on the Pacific Coast. She was made blind by colonial fever in Australia and was brought back to America in the steamer Swatara of the United States Navy in 1887.

Racing at Visalia.

VISALIA, Oct. 7.—The fair here opened under rather unfavorable auspices, as rain began pouring down about 1 o'clock this afternoon. Most of the horses that started at the Fresno races came down today, but were unable to leave their stalls in the box-cars, on account of the storm, which is the severest experienced here in years.

The Government Loses.

PORTLAND (Or.), Oct. 7.—In the case of the United States against the Dalles Military Wagon Road Company, Judge Sawyer today decided that the company was not required to construct a road according to the requirement of the State law, but as provided by the act of Congress, as they claim to have done, and further that having constructed the road they were not required to maintain it, as alleged in the complaint.

Death of a Journalist.

EL PASO (Tex.), O ct. 7.—A telegram from Nashville, Tenn., announces the death today of I. O. Hamilton, president of the Times Publishing Company of this city. He died of consumption while visiting his old home in Nashville. Deceased was 31 years old and was very popular. There is profound sorrow among his numerous friends.

Fire Threatening a Town.

ST. CLOUD (Minn.), Oct. 7.—Timber and prairie fires which have been raging west of the city for some time are now within two miles of the city limits, and unless rain comes the town is in danger of a large conflagration. One farmer's family has already been driven out and others are preparing to follow if the fire continues to move.

Charged with Poisoning.

ST. JOHN (N.B.), Oct. 7.—Intense excitement was caused here yesterday by the arrest of William McDonald, a wholesale drug clerk, charged with being the person who sent poisoned candy through the mail, which caused the death of Mrs. McRae, a clergyman's wife. McDonald is connected with a prominent family.

Killed by an Explosion.

THOMS (Dak.), Oct. 7.—A steam threshing engine boiler exploded this morning on the farm of McAndress, two miles west. Edward McAffrey, the owner; Billy Paul, engineer, and Charles Frazer were killed. R. P. Daily was fatally injured.

Blown to Pieces.

WALLA WALLA (Wash.), Oct. 7.—This morning, at Baker's sawmill, a boiler exploded, tearing Alexander Harding, nightman, all to pieces. It blew his body out of the boiler-room, tearing off the head, both legs and one arm.

Granted a Stay.

SYRACUSE (N.Y.), Oct. 7.—A stay of proceedings was granted today in the case of ex-Banker Faulkner, pending a continuence of the case to the next term, and Faulkner was required to give $30,000 bail.

ADMIRAL PORTER.

Alarming Stories About His Health Untrue.

Mormons Preparing to Push Polygamy Into Canada.

Montana Republicans Now Claim the New State.

Eighteen Millions Involved in a Suit Against a South American Construction Company —Eastern Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

PROVIDENCE (R. I.), Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] A caller at the residence of Admiral Porter, in Jamestown, this evening, found him seated in an easy chair before a comfortable grate fire. In answer to a query in regard to his health, he replied that he was feeling better than before for a long time, and expected before long to return to Washington. The Admiral's son, Robert, also informed the Associated Press representative that his father's condition was much improved, and that there was no cause for the alarming rumors as to his condition being critical at the present time.

MILLIONS INVOLVED.

A Big Suit on a South American Contract.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.), Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] A suit involving a contract with the Government of Chili, calling for about $18,000,000, was filed here this afternoon. Henry C. Comegys and J. and S. Lewis, of New York, and George F. Wyman, of Kansas, are plaintiffs, and the North and South American Construction Company, George S. Field, Charles McDonald and Julio Bernstein, of Chili, are made defendants. Fraud is charged against the defendants. The work progressed satisfactorily to the Chilian Government, without any complaint on the part of the Government of Chili, until the summer of 1889, when George Field, president of the company, went to Chili. There, without any authority, it is said, he discharged Jared S. Lewis from his position of manager and superintendent, and without the consent or authority of the stockholders of the company and enticed into a contract with Julio Bernstein, a resident of Chili, by which, for the nominal consideration of $17,500, the company undertook to sell and transfer, absolutely, all its property, contract rights and obligations to Bernstein. Plaintiffs ask that the contract with Bernstein be declared void.

IN NEW FIELDS.

Great Influx of Mormons Into the Canadian Northwest.

OTTAWA (Ont.), Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] Advices from the Canadian Northwest, near Lee's Creek, report a great influx of Mormons from Utah Territory. They are bringing their plural wives as sisters, cousins and aunts, and are being closely watched by the Dominion authorities, who will prosecute them to the full extent of the law if they can get proof of polygamy.

Stenhouse, the British Columbia member, who resigned his seat in the Legislature to enlist in the Mormon ranks, is actively canvassing Alberta with a view to securing a seat in the next Dominion Parliament, where he says he will endeavor to effect marriage reform and the legalization of Mormonism.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 7.—The Mormon conference adjourned yesterday. It was well attended. The quorum of twelve apostles was filled by adding M. W. Morrill, Anton H. Lund and Abraham Canton. The tone of the conference and keynote was obedience to the priesthood in all things, spiritual and temporal.

THE MONTANA ELECTION.

Indications that the Legislature Will be Republican.

ST. PAUL (Minn.), Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] The Pioneer Press's Helena (Mont.) special says: The Herald has advices tonight that the Republicans have elected the whole legislative ticket in Madison county, one member for which has heretofore been conceded to the Democrats, and also that the Republicans gain one member in Fergus county.

If other Republican claims hold good this will make the State Senate a tie, and the House Republican by from one to four majority.

Chairman Seligman, of the Republican State Committee, still claims the Legislature, and does not concede the election of Soole for Governor.

The official count in Lock county will be made this week, and that will settle the matter, unless the Republicans should institute a contest, which now seems probable.

Another Railway Incorporated.

DENVER (Colo.), Oct. 7.—Articles incorporating the Colorado Short Line Railway Company with a capital of $300,000 were filed with the Secretary of State today. The proposed line will start from Portland on the Rio Grande road, about 30 miles east of here, and run south in a westerly direction through Buena Vista and Grand Junction to Salt Lake, thence west through Utah and Nevada to Elko, on the Central Pacific. The incorporators and directors are: S. T. Smith, S. N. Wood, E. O. Wolcott, R. E. Briggs, A. S. Hughes and D. H. Moffatt.

Another Cronin Suspect.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Andrew Foy, a laborer, who is a member of Camp No. 20, Clan-na-Gael, was arrested tonight and subjected to a pumping process lasting over two hours in the office of the State's Attorney. Police Capt. Schuettler says Foy was released after the questioning, but will be kept under surveillance. The State's Attorney declined to say whether or not anything of importance had been elicited.

McAuliffe and Carroll.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Jack McAuliffe today telegraphed President Fulda of the California Athletic Club that he would fight Jimmy Carroll of Boston, as the latter had offered, providing the purse was not less than $5000, weights to be 135 pounds, and the fight to take place between the 1st and 15th of December, at the California Athletic Club.

An Embarrassed Wool Firm.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—Taussig & Taylor, wool merchants, are embarrassed, but an extension is probable. The firm is well known in this city and throughout the West. Members of the firm decline to make any statement for publication. It was learned that its liabilities were about $65,000. The assets are much below that amount.

A Barb-wire Trust.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—It is reported here that an attempt is being made to form a barb-wire trust. C. S. Douglass of New York and J. W. Gates of St. Louis are credited with conducting the negotiations. A general meeting of manufacturers will be held here October 17th.

Large Fire at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—A three-story brick building attached to Oliver Bros.' Tenth-street mill, on the South Side, was burned tonight. The machine, blacksmith and car shops and offices were destroyed. The loss will probably reach $250,000, fully covered by insurance.

Japan Will Be Represented.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Secretary of State is informed that Japan will be represented at the International Marine Conference by S. Buckahara of the Imperial Department of Communications, and Lieut. R. Baba of the Legation.

Legal Complications Growing Out of Tax-Collector Varnum's Case at San Diego—Other Coast News.

By Telegraph to the Times.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] This morning Attorney J. F. Conroy attacked Hon. C. A. Storke with a walking cane, striking him over the head. Storke grappled, and they swung through the doors of the local transfer company, breaking a window-pane and smashing a desk. They were then separated. Storke and Conroy arrested for assault.

The affair grew out of alleged allegations in a civil suit brought on Saturday by Storke against Conroy to set aside a mortgage and two notes alleged to have been obtained from him through fraud and deception by Conroy, who acted as his lawyer in a recent divorce suit.

A LEGAL MUDDLE.

Result of the Injunction in Varnum's Case.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] A few days ago the Superior Court removed W. S. Varnum from the office of Tax Collector for alleged incompetency and misappropriation of funds. On Saturday the Board of Supervisors appointed Harry Weineke to the vacant position, and the latter qualified. This morning, however, the board was notified that the Supreme Court at Los Angeles had, at an early hour on Saturday, granted an injunction restraining the board from making an appointment in Varnum's place. Weineke states that he intends to collect his salary from date, and legal proceedings will probably ensue.

SAN DIEGO'S OFFER.

Liberal Inducements for a Transcontinental Road.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] A large mass meeting was held tonight at the Chamber of Commerce to offer inducements to the Union Pacific to begin work at this end of its proposed Southern California extension this fall. A plan was outlined, and another mass meeting will be held tomorrow evening at the Louis Opera-house. It is proposed to turn the San Diego, Cuyamaca and Eastern, now completed and in operation to the Cajon Valley, and and valued at $1,000,000, into the hands of the Union Pacific or other independent or transcontinental line which will first build into San Diego.

BAD INDIANS.

They Attack a Farmhouse but Get Worsted.

SEATTLE (Wash.), Oct. 7.—[By the Associated Press.] Near Mt. Vernon, yesterday, a couple of Indians robbed a young son of Henry Kimble of some pheasants, which he was taking to market. Kimble, hearing the boy's cries, came up and gave the Indians a thrashing. A party of Indians attacked Kimble's house at midnight, opening fire on it. Kimble and George Lester returned the fire, killing one Indian and seriously wounding another. Several Indians have been arrested.

Tax Levies Fixed.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 7.—The Board of Supervisors today fixed the rate in this county at $1.50, being 25 cents higher than last year, mainly owing to increase in State rate.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 7.—The tax rate for Orange county was fixed this evening by the Supervisors at $1.45 for the city and $1.65 for the county.

NAPA, Oct. 7.—The Supervisors have fixed the tax levy at $1.70 per $100 on an assessment of $14,960,000. Last year's rate was $1.45.

STOCKTON, Oct. 7.—The Board of Supervisors today fixed the county rate of taxation at 67.8 cents, which, added to the State levy, makes the rate here $1.40.

Captured After Four Years.

STOCKTON, Oct. 7.—Charles Kelpfelt, a German baker, charged with burglary and forgery, committed here four years ago, was arrested today on his return to this city by Sheriff Cunningham. He robbed his employer of clothing and a certificate of deposit for $400, and left here. He forged L. Bergerat's name, and sent the certificate from Sacramento for collection, and it was paid by a local bank.

Agreed to Consolidate.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—The directors of the California Southern Railroad, in their meeting this afternoon at National City, agreed to the plan for the consolidation of the road with the California Central and Redondo Beach roads under the management of the California Southern. The final consummation of the plan will be made at Los Angeles on Wednesday.

A Blow at Prize Fighting.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The ordinance which was introduced in the Board of Supervisors recently, imposing a yearly license of $5000 upon athletic clubs where boxing matches take place, was amended by the Committee on Licenses today, reducing the amount to $3000, payable quarterly. The ordinance was reported to the board tonight and passed to print.

The Codlin Moth Must Go.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 7.—At a meeting this evening of Horticultural Commissioners Hamilton, Preble and Keith, instructions were given to all deciduous fruit-growers to begin at once to hunt out and destroy the codlin moth. Emphasis is laid on the admonition that a vigorous warfare must be waged against this pest.

Baptists at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—The twenty-first annual convention of the Southern California Baptist Association began here tonight. About 200 delegates arrived by special train from the north today, and another special train will arrive tomorrow. The session lasts all the week.

SANTA MONICA.

Latest Jottings from the Seaside City.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 7.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The Southern California Polo Club has held its annual meeting for the purpose of reorganization and the election of officers for the ensuing year. A code of by-laws passed in a committee was adopted, and the following officers were duly elected: John P. Jones, president; H. A. Winslow, vice-president; J. B. Proctor, captain; E. P. Tompkinson, secretary and treasurer.

Sam Carson, a son of the celebrated Kit Carson, has presented Mr. Rudolph Hopf with one of the famous fish-hooks used by the natives of the Corago Isles, Gulf of Mexico.

RAILROADINGS.

Manager McCool at Home But Mum—Freight Business.

Dan McCool, manager of the California Central Railroad, returned from the East last evening at 4:40 o'clock. He was met at the Santa Fé depot by a TIMES reporter, but refused point-blank to say anything about his trip east or why he left this city so suddenly, 10 days ago. Mr. McCool went as far as Chicago and stated that he had a talk with President Manvel, but he refused to make any statement. He says Mr. Manvel will be out soon, but he does not know when.

Everything was quiet about the Santa Fé offices yesterday. The directors of the California Southern met in National City yesterday, but their deliberations have not yet been made public. The directors of the California Central will meet tomorrow, and it is expected that the consolidation of the two companies will take place at once.

Freight business is rapidly improving over the Santa Fé lines. A big raisin special was started east from Riverside yesterday and another one will go out tomorrow.

Chief Clerk Bob Hamilton of the Southern Pacific returned yesterday from a quail hunt. It is not known whether he killed a single bird or not, but it is very certain that he brought game enough home to supply the whole neighborhood. There is nothing like taking a few dollars when one goes quail hunting.

A Santa Fé excursion will arrive today and several others are on the road.

During the races from the 21st to the 26th inst., the Santa Fé Company will sell trip-tickets from Santa Ana, Riverside, Colton, San Bernardino and way stations at one and one-third fare. This is a decided reduction and ought to fill the city with strangers.

WORD FROM TAYLOR.

Particulars of the Death of His Boys.

The following letter from W. G. Taylor of the TIMES staff, now in Huntsville, Ala., explains the circumstances of the last sickness and death of his two boys, recently reported. He says:

HUNTSVILLE (Ala.), Oct. 1, 1889.

Your telegram received this morning, for which accept my sincere thanks. Both of my boys were dead when I arrived here, which was at 6 o'clock Monday morning. Roy, the elder, died Saturday morning at 3 o'clock of membraneous croup, and Earle, the little one, about 24 hours later, of inflammation of the bowels. Everything possible was done for both children, but without avail. As a last resort, tracheotomy was performed on Roy, which prolonged his life three days. The bodies were embalmed and kept until my arrival, the funeral taking place yesterday afternoon.

My relatives and friends here have been very kind, but I am anxious to get away with the remnant of my little family, and just as soon as possible will return to Los Angeles. Of course, it is too late now, but I can't help but think that if I had kept my boys in California I would have had them yet. My wife's condition causes me considerable anxiety, but I hope she will come out all right. My remaining son, the eldest, has been sick, but is now well, but quite thin. Thanking you again for your kind expressions of sympathy, and through you my other friends in the office who have remembered me in my trouble, I remain, very truly yours, WILLIAM G. TAYLOR.

A TRICKY CELESTIAL.

He Is Captured and Taken to Santa Barbara.

Constable Fred Smith has the Chinese business down to a very fine point, and has actually arrived at that condition of expertness which enables him to tell one Chinaman from another. His knowledge of Chinamen has become so extended that he is regarded as an authority on the subject, consequently Constable Crabb of Santa Barbara hunted him up yesterday morning after arriving in the city, and enlisted his services in finding one Lee Ming Quong. Fred secured a description of the man, and came to the conclusion that it was a Chinaman known here as Wing who was wanted. He went with the Constable to Chinatown, and about the first Celestial they saw was Lee Ming Quong, otherwise known as Wing. He was taken into custody, and went back on the afternoon train to Santa Barbara. Wing is charged with running off a witness in an assault case at Santa Barbara. Two other Chinamen connected with the disappearance of the witness have already been tried and convicted of this offense. Attorney S. M. Payton went to Santa Barbara with Wing to defend him.

THE SUPERIOR COURTS.

Calling the Calendar—A Number of Criminal Cases Set.

Yesterday very little business, except calling the trial calendar, was transacted in the Superior Court. The different judges met in Department No. 4, Judge Van Dyke, in the morning and the setting of cases occupied the entire day.

In Department No. 1, Judge Cheney, there were the following arraignments: Juan José Piña, charged with the murder of Frank Martinez, near Santa Monica, several weeks ago; Rafael Valenza, charged with grand larceny, and George W. Bunch, charged with stealing horses. Wednesday was set for them to plead.

Lattimore, the colored man charged with perjury, waived time and pleaded not guilty. The 14th of November was set for his trial.

The second trial of Dick See, charged with the murder of William Duncan years ago, should have begun, but, owing to the absence of witnesses for the prosecution, was continued until today.

The following cases were set for trial: Frank Lauterio, November 6th; A. A. Montaño, November 9th; W. F. Wheeler, November 12th; Clint Stevenson, assault, November 5th.

A MEDDLER.

Mr. Swan Says He Caused the Suit.

A report was recently published of a suit brought by J. P. Murphy against E. J. Swan to recover $52,000, which, it was claimed, was due through a mine transaction. It appears from later developments that the suit arose through a misunderstanding, and that the gentlemen are the best of friends, and always have been. Mr. Swan, writing to THE TIMES, says that the suit was entirely uncalled for, as he and Mr. Murphy were together in the mines at the time in Nevada. The suit, he says, was brought about by a meddling real-estate broker, who was after a commission, and failed to carry out his own part in the trade, which was to secure a loan he promised. He went to Mrs. Murphy in the absence of her husband, and advised her to bring the suit against Swan, which she did. The suit was cancelled as soon as the gentlemen heard about it, and the broker was checked in his scheming.

A DOUBLE NURSERY TO BE ESTABLISHED,

So That the Australian Ladybugs Shall Not Perish from the Face of the Earth—A New Hybrid Beetle Supposed to Prey on the Red Scale.

So quick and effective has been the work of the Australian ladybug, introduced into Southern California to prey upon the cottony cushion scale, that the pests are now practically exterminated from the orange and deciduous fruit orchards, and from the highways and byways of this end of the State. But as the voracious ladybug preys upon its own kind when there are no more cottony cushions to destroy, the beneficent little visitors are, in turn, rapidly disappearing. The Horticultural Commissioners have wisely concluded that it will not do to let them bid us adieu entirely, for it is certain that, without their restraining influence, the cottony cushions will again get a foothold, snugly stowed away under the bark of trees, in the ground, in weeds, up some distant cañon or somewhere, there is certain to be a seed lot or two of the "varmints," and they will certainly come forth and multiply and replenish the earth with their evil carcases if left alone. In that event, provided the ladybugs have taken themselves off entirely, we would be under the necessity of sending all the way to Australia to import another lot.

At a meeting held last Saturday, the commissioners concluded to establish a breeding-place where the cottony-cushion scale can be propagated and used to feed a limited colony of the ladybugs, so that a stock of the latter may be kept on hand all the time.

Accordingly a couple of tents will be secured, inside one of which there will be a colony of the cottony-cushion scale kept in as thriving a condition as possible, and in the other a colony of the ladybugs, to which a sufficient supply of cushion fodder will be given so that they do not turn cannibals. In this way a stock of the ladybugs will be preserved for use next summer, provided the tree pest breaks out afresh. This provision will undoubtedly meet the sanction of all progressive horticulturists in California.

Talking of the new parasite which it was supposed had been discovered at Sierra Madre Villa and on Chapman's ranch with a natural mission to exterminate the much-dreaded red scale, Commissioner Kercheval said to a TIMES reporter yesterday:

"We were disappointed in that. I introduced some branches of trees taken from Mr. Chapman's place among my trees, and Mr. Coquillette also obtained some for experimental purposes, but, after a thorough trial, we concluded that they did not amount to much. We found a few leaves in the inoculated trees in which the red scale seemed to have been punctured, but there were only a few, and, on close examination, we found scale in other quarters which appeared just the same. A few of the insects might have been killed by some infinitesimal enemy, but it did not amount to an extermination by any means.

"But," continued Mr. Kercheval, "we are almost persuaded that a valuable enemy of this scale has been found by Mr. Kellogg of Vernon. He has shown us a little ladybug which seems to be of a new family, and, so near as we can make out, it is a cross between the Australian ladybug and the twice-stabbed ladybug which was formerly known here. It is only about half the size of the regular twice-stabbed beetle, but it has the same red spots on its sides, and the back is a glossy black. This little bug seems to go after the red scale with the same voracious appetite that the Australian beetle preys upon the cottony cushion. It tears up the shell with its proboscis and of course destroys thoroughly all it attacks. It has a rough, bristling coat, in the larva and pupa state, like the Australian beetle.

"Of course, we are not sure that this little creature will exterminate the red scale, but we have hopes in that direction, and shall take immediate steps to propagate it and try the experiment. Orange-growers should not relax any of their efforts, however, in pruning back and spraying their trees to destroy this red scale. There is no certainty about the new bugs, while there is a certainty that the spraying will keep the red scale in check. Let the fruit-growers do all they can and we will do all in our power to aid them."

PASADENA NEWS.

GOING IN SEARCH OF BURIED TREASURE.

The Lost Adams Mine—Local Brevities—News About the City—Here and There—The Nationalists Make a Beginning—Personal Mention.

PASADENA, Oct. 7.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] From reliable authority it is learned that a party of men residing in this vicinity are outfitting to start at once for the lost Adams placers in Arizona.

Mr. Adams, an experienced miner and old-timer, living at present near San Diego, will conduct the party. Several years ago, in company with a party of men he went to the mines, which now bear his name, but after many hardships the rest of the party were killed by Apache Indians, and five pecks of gold stolen in the raid. Adams remains alone to tell the story of their butchery and the theft of their diggings.

Subsequently he went back with a party of 17, and almost met a similar fate. A third time he took five men with him, but success was not as anticipated, but at both times his band was diminished.

Since the last occurrence, however, the Apaches have been transferred from the scenes of their horrible butchery to one of the Carolinas. A trip can now be made in safety and without any danger of massacre and an entrance to the mines gained with apparent safety.

The lost Adams mine is supposed to be near the line of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, close to New Mexico. The present party will go there to search for the buried and lost treasures, and to work the mines.

EL VERDAD TRIO.

Regarding my report of the searching of the "Daily Star" restaurant, it should be stated, in justice to both the Marshal and myself, that the paragraph was based on the statement made by the proprietor. No mention was made that the Marshal was to blame, but a clear statement of the facts was given, a reservation being made for the public to draw its own conclusion. Whether or not a complaint had been filed, no search-warrant was exhibited when the place was entered and permission asked to make a search, neither had application or affidavit been made for such a paper. No officer in the city of Los Angeles would have thought of making such a search without a warrant.

SOCIAL IMPROVEMENT CLUB.

The Social Improvement Club met Saturday evening in the vestry of the Universalist Church.

After the opening ceremonies the chairman introduced Ed A. Weed of Los Angeles, who delivered a good address in the interest of Nationalism.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to organizing, and the officers chosen were Mr. Durant, president; Mr. Larkins, vice-president; L. H. Bannister, secretary; Mrs. Leavens, assistant secretary; Mr. Dxss, treasurer; Mr. J. Alburtus, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Durant, librarian, and for Advisory Committee, Messrs. Leavens, Clark and Alburtus.

Until notice is given to the contrary the club will meet every Saturday evening at the same place.

BREVITIES.

The brick work on the new Dayton-street engine-house is about completed.

A regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Lake Vineyard Land and Water Company was held this evening.

The Women's Relief Corps, of the G.A.R., are making big preparations for the fair, which takes place next week.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

A meeting of the vestrymen of All Saints' Episcopal Church was held this evening to decide on what improvements could be made in the edifice in the way of lighting it.

A large piece of redwood bark weighing 90 pounds, and stripped from a tree near Waukena, in the Sierra Nevada Mountains, is on exhibition in front of the office of F. S. Wallace.

A large party of the members of the Masonic Lodge will make the ascent of Mt. Wilson on Friday evening. They will spend the remainder of the night and next morning in Steil's camp, returning to the city on Saturday afternoon at a late hour.

Commencing two weeks from last Sunday a series of camp-meeting services will be held in the Methodist Tabernacle. Prominent divines from Los Angeles and other cities will assist the pastor.

A dozen boys, whose ages range from 12 to 16 years, are in the habit of spending their Sabbath evenings loafing around in front of the doors of the Methodist Tabernacle. Attired in their Sunday clothes and with a neat cigarette between their teeth, they adorn the curbstone in front of the church, much to the annoyance of the worshipers. Next Sunday evening the Marshal expects to be on hand to abolish the evil practice and clear away the nuisance.

Rev. Mr. Conger will preach Wednesday night at the residence of Mrs. Barnes, corner Fair Oaks avenue and Cedar street, North Pasadena.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. M. L. Samson and Miss Mattie Stewart of Los Angeles lunched at the Southern today.

William J. Scott, who has been a clerk for some time in Bley's pharmacy, will leave tomorrow for Philadelphia.

L. W. Knight, a son of Judge Enoch Knight, was expected to arrive from Boston this evening.

Bayard T. Smith was in town this morning from Los Angeles.

The Misses Petty and Gussie Helling returned from San Francisco today.

Miss Edna Whitney of Los Angeles is visiting friends in this city.

A. L. Manahan, substitute letter-carrier, is going over Capt. A. C. Drake's route for a few days.

Mrs. S. R. Lippincott and daughter have arrived from the East and are residing in the Stanley home, on North Fair Oaks avenue.

Mrs. E. D. Morrison of Burlington and P. B. Norton of Vergennes, Vt., had their names on the Southern register today.

George A. Cherry arrived this morning from an extended trip through Colorado, where he visited the principal cities and summer resorts of that State, not forgetting to remain two months at Denver. He is back at the Painter.

Miss M. A. Jordan.

The ladies of Los Angeles, Pasadena and surrounding towns should make arrangements to attend the fall opening at Miss Jordan's parlors, 220 South Spring street, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 10th, 11th and 12th. No cards.

Miss Jordan's stock has all arrived from New York, and she will have on exhibition the finest and most complete collection of imported patterns.

THE TAX LEVY.

Rate Fixed by the Supervisors—A Considerable Increase.

The Board of Supervisors has been wrestling with the tax levy for two days past, and yesterday announced its decision. The discussion was directed to the subject of a possible reduction of the levy, and the ways and means were thoroughly entered into. Yesterday afternoon the board went into an executive session upon the matter, and finally, at 5 o'clock, adopted the following levy for the ensuing year, on motion of Supervisor Martin:

Fund.	Cents.	Mills.
State	72	2.00
Current Expense	25	....
School fund	18	....
Hospital fund	10	6.25
Road fund	30	....
Courthouse and jail fund	10	....
Salary fund	11	2.50
Interest and sinking fund, 1881	..	1.30
Interest and sinking fund, 1882	..	3.60
Interest and sinking fund, 1884	..	6.85
Interest and sinking fund, 1885	2	5.50
Interest and sinking fund, 1887	1	2.00
Total		$1.80

This makes the tax levy inside the city $1.50, while outside in the county the levy is brought up to $1.80 by the 30 cents levied for the road fund.

An analysis of the tax levy shows that it has been slightly increased over the levy of last year. Last year's levy was $1.20 in the county and $1 in the city, thus making an increase of 60 cents in the county and 50 cents in the city. But this does not state the case accurately, because the State levy is increased this year. It will be remembered that the recent State levy is 72.2 cents, while last year it was but 50.4 cents, an increase this year of 21.8 cents. So that in reality the county levy is increased only 38 and 28 cents respectively in the county and city for the coming year. Last year the levy was made upon an assessment of $103,000,000, while by the action of the Board of Equalization in reducing the assessment 10 per cent. the present levy is made upon an assessment of $93,000,000, quite a reduction.

The board, in fixing the levy, raised the levy for road purposes 10 cents, and reduced the courthouse and jail fund levy. The last was done with a view to keeping the levy as low as possible, and with the purpose later on of submitting to the people the question of issuing bonds for the completion of the new courthouse.

On motion of Supervisor Martin, the following levy was made in special school districts for interest and sinking fund for school bonds for the year 1889:

	Cents.
Alhambra	30
Highland Park	30
Los Virgines	30
Laurel	30
Long Beach	08
Newhall	40
Palomares	25
Sepulveda	13
Sulphur Springs	30

The California Central and Southern Pacific railroads reported their mileage in detail, and the levy was made on $5919.49 for the California Central and $10,041.70 for the Southern Pacific.

EAST SIDE.

Notes of Various People and Local Happenings.

Mr. Williams, who recently returned from Catalina, will leave for San Francisco today.

The Board of Trade will hold its regular meeting this evening in Campbell's Hall.

The Finance Committee on celebration should get to work at once, as the success of the celebration depends principally on the amount of funds raised.

A runaway occurred in the Arroyo Seco yesterday and the horse, liberated from the buggy, made his way through East Los Angeles, and crossed the Buena Vista-street bridge. No damage reported to life or limb.

Mr. Lewis, from Anaheim, is stopping in town for a few days.

J. Hayden, Jr., and Fred Spencer returned yesterday from a trip up the country.

Mr. Crane and wife from Dayton, O., who has been the guests of C. S. Bradford for a few days, left for their old home yesterday, very much pleased with what they have seen of Southern California.

W. H. Abel and wife returned yesterday from an extended trip of three months to their old home at Winston, Ct., better pleased with Los Angeles than ever before.

H. V. Bard, assistant superintendant of parks, left yesterday for San Francisco.

John E. Lovejoy, from Iowa, is the guest of J. C. Houser.

What to Wear.

Fancy worsted suitings are in stone, drab and wood-brown, and in mixed shades of gray. For tourists' and business wear, fancy cheviots and homespuns have the preference. Trouserings in stripes and plaids are in a variety of very quiet and genteel shades. We have just secured the services of a high-class New York cutter, and our garments are equal in every respect to those of the very finest New York houses. Suits from $35 up; trousers from $10 up. Polaski Bros., 114 North Main street.

Was It Suicide?

Mrs. Patterson, who has been visiting Los Angeles, was found in an unconscious condition this morning. A physician being called, on examination declared it due to heart troubles. She had the day before visited colton's furniture exchange, two hundred and two south spring street, and the great variety of goods offered there, at the low price asked, was too much for her nervous system. She is all right now, and will go to no other place hereafter.

Gloves.

A WARNING
To Our Patrons.

The Kid Gloves sold in the United States under the brand of P. Centemeri & Co., until the first of the present year, were the genuine "Maggioni," an Italian glove, made by Maggioni Francesco, in Milan, Italy. P. Centemeri simply controlled the sale of these gloves in this country and had the privilege of using their signature stamped in each pair of gloves. From January 1st Maggioni Francesco has had no connection at all with P. Centemeri & Co., and any glove bearing the name P. Centemeri & Co. is not the glove by which P. Centemeri & Co.'s reputation was made in the United States. All gloves to be genuine must have the name, MAGGIONI FRANCESCO, in full in left-hand glove, and none genuine without the name, Maggioni Francesco.

The notice of the public is called to the fact that this bank only loans money on approved real-estate security; that it does not loan money to its stockholders, officers or clerks; that among its stockholders are some of the oldest and most responsible citizens of the community; that, under the State laws, the private estates of its stockholders are pro rata liable for the total indebtedness of the bank.

These facts, with care exercised in making loans, insure a safe depository for saving accounts. School teachers, clerks, mechanics, employees in factories and shops, laborers, etc., will find it convenient to make deposits in small amounts.

BUSINESS.

Money, Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Money on call stringent, ranging from 3 to 15 per cent.; closed, offered at 3 per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 5¼@7¼.

Sterling exchange, quiet and weak; 60-day bills, 4.83¼; demand, 4.86¼.

American cotton oil, 30¼.

Government bonds, dull but steady.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Stocks today continued to feel the effect of stringency in money. The tone of the dealings remained heavy to weak almost throughout the day, and while movements of importance were within narrow limits, extreme declines ranged up to 3 per cent., and the weak stocks did seven-eighths of the business. Weakness in trusts was again the most conspicuous feature of the market. There were rumors of a decision in the case of the North River sugar refinery, and they helped drive that stock down and against the bottom, but stories of dissension among the directors were used with considerable effect. At the opening Burlington and Atchison, with Jersey Central and Delaware and Hudson, led the decline. The easing up of money gave a better tone to the dealings toward the delivery hours, but Manitoba dropped 6 per cent. on an attempt to market a block of that stock, and others again followed, the market closing weak and close to the lowest prices. The list is generally materially lower, Louisville and Nashville being the only marked exception, with a gain of 1⅛ per cent. Cotton oil is down 2⅜, Manitoba 6, sugar 7, Atchison and Missouri Pacific 1⅝ each, Big Four 1¾, Rock Island, Northwestern and Pullman 1 per cent. each.

Order of Adjudication.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles,—In the matter of Nelson Van Tassell, an insolvent debtor.

The petition of Harrison & Dickson, Sears, Loeb & Co., E. Laventhal & Sons, Walton & Wachtel, B. Sanders, Los Angeles Farming and Milling Company, Capitol Milling Company, Los Angeles Soap Company, Schooler, Johnston & Co., Los Angeles Cracker Company, praying that Nelson Van Tassell may be adjudged to be adjudged an insolvent debtor, coming on regularly to be heard this 16th day of September, 1889, and Messrs. Graves, O'Melveny & Shankland appearing for petitioners, and no one appearing for said Nelson Van Tassell;

And it further appearing to the Court that the time for answering said petition has expired, and no answer or demurrer has been filed by the said Nelson Van Tassell, and his default having been entered according to law, and that each, every and all of the allegations contained in said petition are true,

It is hereby ordered, adjudged and decreed: That the said Nelson Van Tassell now is and on the 2d day of May, 1889, the date of the filing of the petition aforesaid, was insolvent within the true intent and meaning of an act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled, An Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors and Protection of Creditors, and for the Punishment of Fraudulent Debtors, passed April 16, 1880.

And it is further ordered that the said Nelson Van Tassell file in this court the schedule and inventory provided by law. From this date all proceedings herein shall be had as upon a voluntary proceeding in insolvency by said insolvent debtor begun. If said debtor shall fail to appear, make and file the schedule and inventory, as provided in sections 3 and 4 of the Insolvent Act of 1880, within five days after service upon him of this order, said schedule and inventory shall be prepared by the Sheriff of Los Angeles county from the best information he can obtain. Said Sheriff of the county of Los Angeles is hereby directed to take possession of all the estate, real and personal, of the said Nelson Van Tassell, except such as may be by law exempt from execution, and all of his deeds, vouchers, books of account and papers, and to keep the same safely until the appointment of an assignee of his estate. All persons are forbidden to pay any debts to said insolvent or to deliver any property belonging to such insolvent to him or to any person, firm, corporation or association, for his use. And the said debtor is hereby forbidden to transfer or deliver any property until the further order of this court, except as herein ordered.

And it is further ordered that all the creditors of said debtor be and appear before the Honorable Lucien Shaw, Judge of the Superior Court of the county of Los Angeles, in open court, at the courtroom of said court, Department No. 5, in the Jones block, city of Los Angeles, in the county of Los Angeles, State of California, on the 21st day of October, 1889, at 10 o'clock a.m. of that day, to prove their debts and choose one or more assignees of the estate of said debtor.

It is further ordered that this order be published in the Los Angeles Times, a newspaper of general circulation published in the county of Los Angeles, as often as said paper is published before the said day for the meeting of creditors.

And it is further ordered that in the meantime said proceedings against the said insolvent be stayed. LUCIEN SHAW,

Judge of the Superior Court.

Dated September 16, 1889.

THE 8TH OF OCTOBER.

EVENTS THAT HAVE MADE THIS DAY MEMORABLE.

Buell Meets Bragg Near Perryville—Vittorio Alfieri, the Italian Tragic Dramatist—Rienzi, the Tribune—A Dog who Convicted a Murderer.

When Braxton Bragg made a junction with Kirby Smith on October 1, 1862, he was confronted by Buell with 100,000 men, divided into three corps, under Gilbert, Crittenden and McCook. Gen. George H. Thomas, the second in command, led the right and soon began to feel the Confederates. Bragg fell back to Springfield, Ky., where Buell, being informed that he was concentrating at Harodsburg and Perryville, ordered Gilbert to move on the latter place. His advance fell in with the enemy on October 7th, five miles from Perryville. The Confederates were driven back three miles, when Cheatham's division was ordered up to an eligible position. Buell was there, as he anticipated an engagement, and ordered Crittenden and McCook to close up the right, and if possible surround the enemy. Crittenden executed the orders tardily, and Bragg, perceiving his peril, retreated. As Crittenden did not speedily arrive, Bragg determined to give battle at once. There had been a sharp action on the morning of October 8th, when the Confederates were driven back. Later in the day a reconnoissance was made, when it was discovered that Bragg was stealthily approaching, being well masked. Cheatham's division fell suddenly on McCook's flank with terrific yells, at which the raw troops broke and fled. This done, the Confederates rushed upon Rousseau's division. After a struggle of three hours, Lytle's division was crushed with heavy loss, upon which the Confederates struck Gilbert's flank held by Mitchell's division. The fire of the Federal batteries turned on the assailants and proved so destructive, however, that a Federal charge then ordered drove them through Perryville to the shelter of their batteries on the bluffs. Meantime, aid had been sent to McCook, and after two hours' struggle, with a loss of one-third of its numbers, at 4 p.m. McCook sent for more reinforcements. By dusk the Confederates had been repulsed at all points and retreated to Harodsburg, thence into East Tennessee, leaving behind them 2500 barrels of pork at various points. In this battle Buell had 58,000 effective troops, of which 22,000 were raw soldiers. His loss was 4358, of whom 916 were killed. Buell was soon after superseded by Rosecrans.

VITTORIO ALFIERI.

Vittorio Alfieri, the tragic dramatist of Italy, was born of a noble and wealthy family at Asti in Piedmont, January 17, 1749, and died at Florence October 8, 1803. He traveled extensively in Europe, and produced about 1775 his first drama, Cleopatra, which met with such a cordial reception as induced him to devote his time almost exclusively to dramatic writing. In the seven years following he wrote 14 tragedies, of which the most successful were Filipo II. and Saul. As a poet Alfieri was distinguished by the intensity of his passion, the grandeur of his sentiments and the elegance of his style, which, though concise, was luminous. He was the author of many other poems, and the translation into Italian of numerous Greek tragedies. He was the lover of the Countess of Albany, wife of Charles Edward Stuart (called the Pretender), after whose death he is said to have married her secretly in 1788.

RIENZI, THE TRIBUNE.

Rienzi, the illustrious Tribune of Rome, made familiar to modern readers by Bulwer's brilliant novel, was the son of an inn-keeper and a washerwoman of Rome. Conscious of his natural abilities, his parents gave him a good education. His enthusiasm was especially aroused by the history of the ancient glories of his native city, and he revolved many schemes for raising her from her present degradation to the summit of her primitive greatness. Chosen one of the thirteen deputies to the Papal Government at Avignon, he acquitted himself with great credit in an oration addressed to Clement VI., and was appointed apostolic notary, with a daily salary of five gold florins. Success stimulated his zeal in his self-imposed task of rousing the citizens to the assertion of their rights and liberties. The assassination of his brother, whose murderers escaped punishment added the impulse of revenge to that of patriotism. Through his fiery orations addressed to the people, he succeeded in overthrowing the power of the nobles, and in 1341 received the supreme authority with the title of Tribune and Liberator. He governed the city for some time with judgment and moderation, but the pomp of power spoiled him, and he became a tyrant. A confederacy was then formed against him, and he fled for refuge to Prague, where he was seized and sent to Pope Clement VI., who imprisoned him for three years. Innocent VI., however, the successor of Clement, not only gave him his liberty, but appointed him Governor of Rome, thinking he would be able to curb the disturbances in the ecclesiastical States. But Rienzi was now an altered man, and his cruelties raised him new enemies, by whom he was put to death in the capital, October 8, 1354.

A DOG DETECTIVE.

The most remarkable instance of the judicial duel occurred in Paris October 8, 1361. One Aubrey de Montdidier, a French gentleman, had been murdered in the forest of Bondy and buried at the foot of a tree. His faithful dog remained with him until, driven away by hunger, the animal proceeded to Paris and presented himself at the house of an intimate of his master's, making the most piteous howlings. After he had been fed the dog moved toward the door, looking round to see if he were followed, and, returning to his master's friend, laid hold of him by the coat, as if to signify that he should come along with him. Curiosity induced him to follow the animal to the forest of Bondy, where the dog began tearing up the ground at the foot of a tree. At digging up the earth at the spot thus indicated, the body of the murdered Aubrey was exposed to view. Subsequently, in an assembly of courtiers, the dog recognized Macaire; and then, rushing forward, seized him with a tremendous bay. The King ordered a duel between the dog and the man to settle the question of guilt. Macaire was armed with a large stick, and the dog had an empty cask from which to make his springs. Once let loose he rushed upon his adversary, first on one side and then on the other, to avoid the blows from the cudgel, and at length, with a bound, seizing the murderer by the throat, threw him to the ground. Macaire then confessed his guilt, and was subsequently executed.

THE LITTLE EPISODE OF EVE AND THE APPLE RECALLED.

The Proper Symbol for an Establishment Dealing in Clothing—What Fashion Owes to the Fruit.

PEOPLE'S STORE,
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3, 1889.

It has often struck us that an apple should be the symbol denoting the place where wearing apparel and similar goods should be sold. The memorial apple, that has cast such a destiny, that has played such a role in fashion, should without doubt be honored, revered and respected for the good it did. Were it not for the apple where would our present styles be? What a vast benefit did a woman's forethought accomplish when Eve destroyed the mandate and ate of the apple. We know from that moment fashion has had its origin, and to this day, through the centuries and centuries, fashion has lived and thrived, till now it is foremost in the affairs of the world. Paris, London, New York and Los Angeles are all affected by the freaks of fashion, and today every hamlet must bow its head and obey its commands. Our dress goods department has come in for its share, and to enumerate what we selected for the fall and winter will probably interest our lady readers. Yesterday we unpacked a line of fancy striped and mixed Dress Goods, Serge and Diagonal Effects which are actually worth 25c a yard, but which will be placed on special sale today at 12½c. Still another line:

Thirty-six-inch wide, black or colored, Coburg cloth, which for wear and style has no equal; would be considered very low priced at 25c; but for the special sale today we have marked them 15c a yard.

Still further in this department you will find a line of handsome Gray Mixtures, with elegant wide stripe, effects to match, 38-inches wide. For a combination suit it cannot be improved upon. We offer them today at 25c; but their real worth is 45c.

One of the old stand-bys, and which never grows shabby, are those

Gray and brown, silk finished, Poplins.

One of the most stylish fabrics of the day, and for wear is irresistible; special for today at 25c; at any other time they command 49c.

OUR SILK DEPARTMENT.

One of the special bargains which we cannot overlook, and which to you means a prize, an extra-heavy, solid body, black gros-grain Silk, perfect luster and rich shade, we offer today at 84c; its equal we have never seen at less than $1.25.

OUR CLOTHING DEPARTMENT.

These goods contain, with the desirable merits of beauty, strength, utility and cheapness.

Men's brown mixed sack Suits, $3.49; worth $7.50.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold. Indeed he declares he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another; and he is always exceedingly careful. It is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and the throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease it is somewhat changed in its character, and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is sometimes felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath lessens upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this point the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years, and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts he will "by and by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms, as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

The great danger, however, because the most common, is that it will extend downward and affect the lungs. In most cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present to some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's discomfort.

Besides these grave consequences, all of which are liable to spring from scrofulous catarrh of ozoena, there are others which, if less dangerous, are sufficiently unpleasant. It occasions great unhappiness to thousands of both sexes by isolating them and preventing their settlement in life. An offensive running from the nose, with foul breath, is about as great a calamity as can befall young people. Every disease of this kind can be cured by our new system of practice.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the Compound Oxygen and other inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing can do with the same success.

The very best references from those already cured.
